Dulles Airs Report of Reds' Arms Offers in Middle East

Japan To Ask For Defense 'Partnership'

Time To Review Our Relationship, Foreign Minister Informs Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Japanese Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu said today the time has come for America and Japan to "review our defense relationship and put it on a solid partnership basis."

Shigemitsu said that under the existing security treaty between the two nations the major burden for Japan's defense has been placed on the United States. Japan, he declared, has been "cooperating under an unequal arrangement."

Addresses Press Club

Shigemitsu's remarks were prepared for a National Press Club luncheon. He is here for a three-day round of talks with American officials.

The foreign minister, who a decade ago signed his country's surrender to the Allies, did not go into details in his discussion of Japan's rearmament plans — a topic of his conferences today with Secretary of State Dulles and other top U.S. officials. American authorities have been critical of Japan's slow pace in building her defense forces.

But he made plain that he believes the two countries must stand together to maintain peace in the Pacific and East Asia, and he declared that Japan "must beware Communist peace offensives which aim at creating difficulties and dissensions among free nations."

Feels Action Needed

Shigemitsu said Japan felt her technical state of war with Russia should be ended. Moscow and Tokyo have yet to sign a peace treaty ending World War II.

The Japanese diplomat was expected to outline to Dulles this afternoon his country's general proposals for a new and more independent role in sharing defense responsibility in Asia.

Rainfall Forces Temperatures In Area Down

Cooler air from Canada moved into the middle portion of the nation today, dropping temperatures and making the weather a little more bearable.

Showers, which were heavy in some areas, preceded the cooler weather. Violent thunderstorms were reported in Illinois and Indiana and at South Bend, Ind., heavy hail fell, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

From an overnight low of 75 last night, recorded at the local weather station, temperatures dropped continually this morning and at noon the official thermometer read 69. Yesterday, the mercury climbed to 90.

Only a trace of rain was recorded before 7:30 this morning but in a shower about the middle of the morning .06 of an inch of rain fell.

Forecast for tonight and Wednesday is generally fair and cooler. Low tonight is expected to range between 55 and 60.

Although cooler weather prevailed over most of the plains states and in northern New England, it was warm in the Middle Atlantic states, throughout the South and in the Far West.

7 States Condemn Move

Ohio Dealt Setback On Axle-Tax Plans

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio has been dealt a setback in its plans to have other states amend portions of reciprocity agreements dealing with axle-mile taxes.

Motor vehicle licensing officials from seven states yesterday condemned the move.

The action was taken in a resolution passed 7-1 by District 3 of the American Automobile and Motor Vehicle Administrators. The district represents 12 states and the province of Alberta, Canada. Nine states were represented at yesterday's meeting.

Urge No Action

The resolution urged that the states represented take no action on the requested amendments unless Ohio revokes its notice to cancel reciprocity agreements. Ohio told 20 reciprocating states on Aug. 9 it would cancel the agreements in 30 days unless they were amended.

Voting for the resolution were representatives of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Missouri's delegate did not vote. The Ohio representative, Robert L. Moulton, state utilities commission chairman, voted against the resolution.

Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota and Alberta were not represented.

Ohio officials said letters did not go out to Minnesota and Wisconsin because agreements with those states permit collection of the axle tax.

Amend Agreements

The reciprocity agreements provide that each state signing the pact will accord the other's motor vehicle owners special tax exemptions. Without such agreements, a trucker or tourist traveling by auto outside his home state could be forced to pay the full vehicle license fee in any state he visits.

Ohio's reciprocity board took action to have the agreements amended when the state supreme court ruled the Ohio axle-mile tax was covered by the pacts. The court ordered Ohio to refund more than one million dollars in axle tax

Hershey Sees Major Increase In Draft Quotas

May Rise to 30,000 Per Month as Result Of New Reserve Plan

BOSTON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, says the present draft total of 10,000 a month probably will increase to 25,000 or 30,000 during the next year.

He told newsmen in an interview Monday night that the recently enacted reserve plan will increase pressure on the nation's draft manpower pool.

Under the reserve plan, men who enlist in the active reserve at the age of 18 gain credit for military service during a length reserve obligation.

Gen. Hershey came to Boston to address the National Veterans of Foreign Wars encampment.

Before his address, he told newsmen that during the next five years, the reserve plan "will come of age" and selective service officials will be able to decide how long a period of reserve service is needed to maintain the nation's military strength.

Key Witnesses In Ladejinsky Probe Missing

2 Benson Aides Out Of City as Security Risk Hearing Opens

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators called up the much-publicized Ladejinsky case today in their inquiry into administration security risk firings — but it appeared the two star witnesses would be missing.

Both Milan D. Smith, executive assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, and J. Glen Cassity, the Agriculture Department's personnel security officer, were out of the city. The department said both men, who handled the case of land reform specialist Wolf Ladejinsky, would not be available until later.

Holds Indochina Post

Ladejinsky himself now holds a key land reform advisory post in Indochina for the International Cooperation Administration — a job he got with full security clearance in January shortly after Benson fired him as a security risk.

Benson, now on a European tour, fired the Russian-born Ladejinsky last December on the advice of Smith and Cassity although Ladejinsky previously had full security clearance from the State Department. Benson has since ordered his department's records changed so Ladejinsky would no longer be listed as a security risk.

Monday the subcommittee heard Sanford Waxer, 27-year-old Army veteran denied an honorable discharge this year on grounds of association with Communists, and his wife Eleanor, who was suspended from her civil service job with the Army at Ft. Knox in 1954 on grounds of association with a member of a Communist-dominated organization.

Denies Charges

Waxer called the Army's charges "absolutely unfounded" and swore he had never belonged to any group with Communist sympathizers. He is taking his case before an Army hearing board Sept. 6.

Mrs. Waxer told of months of still-unsuccessful efforts to clear her name through one government channel then another. The Waxers are from Detroit.

Crooner Feels Actress Will Come Back

'I Don't Believe It,' Says Haymes of Rita's Action

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rita Hayworth has walked out on crooner Dick Haymes "in the best interests of my children, Dick and myself," she explains.

Apprised by reporters of his wife's statement—made in her attorney's office—Haymes replied: "I don't believe it."

The titian-haired film star issued this terse statement Monday:

"I have separated from Dick because I believe that in the best interests of my children, Dick and myself, it is necessary that both of us have time to think things out.

"I don't know at this time whether the separation will be final."

The actress looked tired and wan. Her attorney Maury L. Spanier refused the request of photographers that she remove her dark glasses. Nor did he permit her to state a reason for the separation.

She didn't inoicate whether she would file suit for divorce from her fourth husband. They were married in Las Vegas, Nev., in September 1953 and she has stood steadfastly by him during his successful deportation fight and complicated income tax troubles.

Th government had sought to deport him to his native Argentina on grounds he was an alien illegally in this country.

Reached by telephone, Haymes told a newsman, "As far as I'm concerned, Rita is my whole life; I'm in lov with her. That's the only way I can look at it—that the marriage is intact. I'm just waiting for her to come home."

Rhee To Deny Exit Visas to 41 Americans

Businessmen Refuse To Pay High Taxes, May Be Held in Korea

SEOUL (AP)—Forty-one American businessmen are on a list to be refused exit permits from South Korea because of a dispute over ROK taxes, a spokesman for the American Chamber of Commerce in Korea said today.

The spokesman said chamber members had been shown the list unofficially and those on it were told they would not be granted exit visas until they paid their assessed tax.

The chamber said it notified the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, asking it to cooperate in protesting arbitrary, exorbitant taxes and claiming "approximately 40 members (of the Chamber of Commerce in Korea) are being held as individual hostages."

'Routine' Procedure

A ROK government spokesman said refusal to issue exit permits to persons owing tax is "routine in any country."

These were the latest developments in the running fight between foreign business representatives and Korean taxation officials over taxes which the American chamber claims are "exorbitant, arbitrary and discriminatory."

The chamber spokesman said foreign business concerns have been assessed "completely unreasonable" taxes and that the Korean officials have refused to itemize tax statements.

He said the businessmen were in Korea as salesmen, technical representatives or commission representatives of various firms selling goods through Korean importers.

Chamber's View

The Chamber's position consistently has been that American and other foreign representatives are doing business with Korea, rather than in Korea.

He said taxing Korean importers and levying a transaction tax against the American representatives was tantamount to double taxation.

Korean tax officials are reluctant to talk about the businessmen's complaint. However, a tax bureau spokesman said American representatives of foreign concerns were being taxed on the same basis as Korean firms. He disregarded the American's contention that foreigners in Korea are not actually doing a corporate business.

NEAR EAST PROBLEMS WORRY STATE DEPARTMENT. Map illustrates smoldering Near East problems which are troubling the U. S. State Department.

Legislation Needed

Connection of Storm Sewers, Sanitary Lines Major Puzzle

Interconnection of the storm and sanitary sewer systems is one of Marion's most perplexing sewer problems.

One method of eliminating sanitary sewage from the storm water sewers in the city would be to make a check of each block.

Fourth of a Series

Using dyes or small numbered balls placed in the toilets of each house, engineers could determine which houses had sanitary sewers illegally connected to storm water sewers.

Then, providing adequate legislation were forthcoming from City Council, owners of such properties could be directed to make the necessary corrections at their own expense.

HOWEVER, Mayor Harold F. Robinson feels that this might not be the fairest method of solving the problem. He points out that many illegal connections have been in existence for many years and in the meantime the properties have changed hands many times. Therefore the present owner may be unaware of the actions of the original property owner in permitting incorrect sewer connections, the mayor explains.

Not only this, but the city itself is partly at fault in that for many years it has not had a sewer inspector who, through proper authority granted him, could prohibit such illegal connections, the city engineers say.

THEY ADD that even if present illegal taps were corrected and no sewer inspector and sewer inspection law were provided, the condition would soon return as future illegal taps were made into the storm water sewers for sanitary sewage disposal.

But if an inspector and inspection laws were provided, even though the present illegal taps were not corrected, the condition could be prevented from growing worse, they add.

There should also be a city ordinance

Awaits Soviet View on Ike's Plan

Stassen Puts Final Touch On Arms Reduction Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Presidential adviser Harold E. Stassen put finishing touches today on President Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of military blueprints and aerial inspection with Russia.

Stassen said he expected to submit the detailed program later this week to the five-power U. N. Disarmament subcommittee, which resumed its negotiations here Monday. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., permanent U. S delegate to the U. N., told the group at its opening session the United States wants U. N. approval for the Eisenhower plan.

Stassen, who is sitting on the subcommittee as the deputy American delegate, was waiting for Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev to give an inkling of Moscow's current feeling about Eisenhower's proposal. Sobolev delivered a long opening statement to the subcommittee Monday without mentioning the startling suggestion the President sprang on the Geneva summit meeting

Continue Secret Talks

The five delegates planned to continue their secret talks on disarmament this afternoon. They agreed they would issue no more public statements on their deliberations.

During their current meeting they also will write their report to the parent 12-nation Disarmament Commission, which will transmit it to the General Assembly convening Sept. 20.

Declares Plans Inadequate

British Minister of State Anthony Nutting told the subcommittee Monday Russia's plan for stationing control inspectors at major ports, junction points and airfields was not adequate to ensure compliance with full disarmament. He outlined a plan for detailed inspection of the forces confronting each other along the East-West dividing line in Europe, a "practice" inspection which he said could be extended to other signers of a disarmament treaty once it was working effectively in the frontier areas.

Sobolev contented himself with restating the Russian plan for inspection at key transport points and the Soviets' agreement with previous Western proposals for a phased reduction of standing armies to agreed ceilings. He called on the West to make the next move.

Flays Administration

Democrats at Mackinac Hear Truman Rip GOP

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—Harry S. Truman said Monday night the Eisenhower administration is using the power of the executive branch of the government to "undermine" the law of the country "in the interest of big business."

But, he said, the "people will win their government back from the forces of special privilege."

In a "give-'em-hell" speech before 800 Michigan Democrats, the former President accused the administration of "subverting the laws it is sworn to execute faithfully"; charged it pursued "in stealth and secrecy" a plan to destroy the Tennessee valley authority; and chided it with failing to balance the budget.

His speech, the second major one in three days, climaxed the three-day meeting of the Michigan Democratic Conference.

In reply to Truman's previous criticisms, President Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty said in Denver Monday that "with the exception of a few partisans I don't believe anybody pays any attention" to what Truman says.

In a speech at French Lick, Ind., Saturday Truman accused the administration of "misrepresentation and demagoguery." Then in a news conference here yesterday he said the Republican regime has fallen "100 per cent under the domination of big business."

Truman in his latest attack described the Securities and Exchange Commission as "a prime

Ohio's School Heads Briefed On Legislation

300 Superintendents Hear Explanation of Foundation Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 300 Ohio school superintendents jammed the largest hearing room in the state office building today to hear experts explain school legislation passed by the last state Legislature.

Key matters discussed were the new foundation program which provides a different way of distributing the state's school subsidy, and the law setting up a state board of education.

Robert L. Rohe, state director of school finance, opened the all-day session with a discussion of the new foundation program. He said the new law contains incentives to prov de better school services in four ways.

Distribution of state school subsidies under the new law will be on the basis of approved teacher units. Now it is on the basis of the number of pupils in a school. The new law becomes effective July 1, 1956.

Rohe said the new law will enable superintendents to employ better teachers, provide a better setup for county board of education budgets, set forth an allowance for special and vocational educational units, which now are financed by appropriations, and provide better minimum salary schedules.

The meeting opened against a background of a continue' teacher shortage. The state education director, R. M. Eyman, said, "There is still a shortage of elementary teachers in rural sections."

In 1955 there were 54,070 teachers, an increase of 2,931 over 1954. Eyman said there should be about 56,000 teachers in classrooms this fall.

Hardly Helps Ease Tension, He Remarks

Secretary Makes Clear At News Conference His Data Is Unofficial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today there have been reliable reports that Russia has offered arms to some countries in the Middle East.

Such an action by Russia—the supplying of arms to nations in a troubled area—would not contribute to the relaxing of world tensions, Dulles said.

The secretary made clear to a news conference that he had no official information on the reported Russian offers of arms.

Reports Circulating

Reports of the offers have circulated for several weeks in diplomatic quarters here.

Dulles declined to name any country as the target of the Soviet offers.

But he responded to a question about whether he knew of offers to Egypt or other states in the Middle East, and said simply that there are indications that such offers may have been made.

Dulles said there was no evidence that he knew of that Soviet equipment was actually already in Arab hands. Those countries have been getting their military supplies from non-Communist sources, he said.

On other subjects, Dulles told his news conference:

The United States has urged both Israel and Egypt within the past 48 hours to refrain from the use of force in their border dispute. The two nationas have been involved for weeks in bloody skirmishes in the Gaza area.

Must Be Patient

The United States must maintain patience and hope in negotiations with Red China at Geneva for the release of American civilians detained on the Chinese mainland. Dulles said he did not feel any great encouragement with respect to the Geneva talks so far except as he believes that with the passage of time some result eventually will be achieved.

Developments relating to the Moscow visit next month of German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer indicate there may be useful talks between the Soviet and German leaders on German unification and the return of prisoners of war from Russia.

He had nothing immediate to report on current talks with Japanese Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu.

Fight Continues Between Israeli And Egyptians

JERUSALEM (AP)—Violence continued without letup Monday night and today in the area of the Gaza strip. Israel charged the Egyptians with killing four Jewish civilians and wounding 10 other Israelis. Egypt accused the Israelis of killing an Egyptian soldier and wounding four Arab civilians.

(In Cairo, an Egyptian military spokesman said fighting broke out near Gaza at 6 a.m. and was still going on this afternoon.)

An Israeli military spokesman said Egyptian infiltrators killed the four civilians and wounded six others in attacks 12 to 15 miles inside Israeli territory north of Gaza Monday night.

He also charged that the Egyptians directed machine-gun and mortar fire on the Erez settlement this morning. The spokesman said there were no casualties on the Israeli side in a 15-minute exchange.

The maid of honor was in turquoise and the bridesmaids in aqua. They wore matching pleated headbands and carried baskets of roses and pompons.

Al Banholzer of Cincinnati, Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and seating the guests were Harry Uhel, Philip Rees of Newark, Rolf Zerges, all fraternity brothers, and William Leffler of Marion.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Earenfight chose a deep blue silk dress with which she combined pink accessories. Mrs. Owens was attired in a powder blue and white silk print dress with matching and white accessories. Each wore a corsage of gladiolas.

Hostesses for the reception, which was held in the church social rooms immediately following the ceremony, were Mrs. Gordon Young of Detroit and Mrs. William Hauter of Bolivar, cousins of the bride.

After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Owens will reside in Athens. She will be teaching in the Nelsonville schools this fall and he plans to resume his studies at Ohio University, Athens. While in Marion, Mr. Owens attended Harding High School and was a member of the school band, serving as its drum major for a time.

Defense Move Is Rejected in Doctor's Trial

BALTIMORE (AP)—A defense request for psychiatric examinations for two young patients who accused a physician of molesting them has been rejected in criminal court as a "fishing expedition"

Judge Joseph L Carter attached that label yesterday to the petition brought by attorneys for Dr William Kessler, assistant resident in surgery at city hospitals and a native of Cincinnati, Ohio

Dr Kessler is charged with having carnal knowledge of a 15-year-old tuberculosis patient and with placing his hands on her and on a 16-year-old patient Both girls are negroes

Dr Kessler's petition for psychiatric examinations for the girls protested his innocence and said the accusations would do irreparable harm to a responsible professional man

But Judge Carter said he could not order the examinations in the absence of prior evidence of mental disturbance However, the judge ruled the defense attorneys should have the right to inspect any statements made by the two girls, and also the reports of investigating police officers

NLRB Ruling Reverses U.S. Court Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today voted 3-2 to prohibit an employer from insisting a union win prior approval from both union and nonunion employes before calling a strike.

An NLRB majority held the Wooster, Ohio, division of Borg-Warner Corp. failed to bargain in good faith by demanding contract clauses requiring an approving secret vote among all its workers before the CIO United Auto Workers could call a strike or seek contract changes

The ruling is contrary to a 1953 decision of the U S Court of Appeals at Chicago That court held employes could properly seek such clauses in labor contracts.

In the Borg-Warner case the majority held that an employer's effort to have bargaining decisions made by all employes amounted to undermining the union's position by dealing directly with workers

In a strong dissent, outgoing Chairman Guy Farmer, whose term has just concluded, accused the majority of trying to determine what was good and bad in collective bargaining demands when this would be better left to unions and management.

Club Addressed By Commander Of Depot Here

Col. J. A. Hamilton Tells Lions Members Of German Travels

An account of his experiences and personal observations while serving in post-war Germany was given by Col. J. Arthur Hamilton, commanding officer of the Marion Engineer Depot, when he spoke at the Marion Lions Club weekly luncheon meeting Monday at Hotel Harding. Col. Hamilton is a member of the club.

He also showed colored slides he had taken while traveling in Germany, showing some of the war damage in such cities as Frankford, Bremen, Munich and Heidelberg.

In Germany three years, assigned to the engineer base depot at Hanau, Germany, in September, 1947, and returning to the states in August, 1950, he explained that he did not have much of a chance to travel the first year and a half of that time due to the fact he was involved in organizing a management division.

However, during his travels later, one of the things he noted in particular is that all farmers live together in small villages while their plots of land completely surround the village, rather than as they do in the United States where a farmer lives on the acreage he farms.

Col. Hamilton told his audience that Hanau, a town of about 50,000 people, is known as the silver center of Germany and also was the home of the Grimm brothers, writers of the famous Grimm fairy tales.

He explained to the Lions members that in order to help the German economy, the engineer depot bought as much in Germany as it possibly could.

A native of Reynoldsville, Pa., Col. Hamilton was graduated from Penn State and was commissioned as a member of the ROTC. He went on active duty in February, 1941, as a reserve instructor in Pittsburgh and thereafter was with the office of chief of engineers in Washington from December, 1941, till October, 1944, served two years at the Research and Development Laboratories at Fort Belvoir, Va., and then was sent to Germany. Upon his return from Germany he was assigned to the Second Army Headquarters at Fort Meade, Md., where he remained until June, 1953, when he was sent to Korea, serving there a year and a half. His assignment to the Marion Engineer Depot followed.

Guests included Paul Sisco of Berwyn, Ill., and Arthur Martin of Marion.

RITA HAYWORTH WITH ATTORNEY. Actress Rita Hayworth is shown in Los Angeles with her attorney, Maury L. Spanier. She announced that she and singer Dick Haymes separated while they "think things out."

Rita

He said he returned to their Malibu home early Monday from a singing engagement at the Cocoanut Grove to find Rita and her daughters gone.

Admits Argument

He admitted they had had an argument but apparently didn't consider it serious.

A physician friend, Dr. H. Clay Barton, joined the singer by climbing through a window of his house.

He told reporters the crooner was in no condition for interviewing.

"He is so upset, so sad and so busted up that he doesn't care about his relations with the press," the doctor said. "He admires, loves and respects his wife very much.

"He acknowledges the differences, but in view of the difficulties they have weathered over the past two years, he looks for an amicable solution. In fact, both look for a friendly settlement."

Rita is involved in a custody dispute with her third husband Aly Khan, who is demanding that she fulfill her divorce agreement by sending their daughter Yasmin, 5½, to France to visit him.

Besides Yasmin, she has a daughter, Rebecca, now 10, by her second husband Orson Welles. Her first husband was oilman Edward Judson.

Haymes previously was married to actress Joanne Dru, dancer Joanne Marshall and Nora Flynn Haymes, former wife of Errol Flynn.

In a swift sequence Monday, Haymes, 36, first said in a statement issued through a representative that his 35-year-old wife had left him and he was "so distraught I can hardly even talk, but I love her and I know we will get back together."

Later by telephone he denied to a reporter that he and Rita were separated but admitted they had had an argument. He said he had not approved the statement which his representative previously said he had okayed.

Doesn't Recall Details

Haymes said the argument was last Wednesday night, adding "I don't remember what about. It was that unimportant." When a reporter, over the phone, asked more about the argument, Haymes said:

"Are you married? Ever had a beef with your wife? It was no more than that."

As for rumors that he had blackened Rita's eye, Haymes said there was "nothing to" them.

Finally, came Miss Hayworth's turn and she gave the statement saying that she and Dick had separated.

Disaster Fund Campaign Totals Placed at $1,442

Contributions in Marion County to the Red Cross flood disaster relief fund now stand at $1,442. A little over $1,000 remains to be contributed if the $2,500 goal is to be achieved.

Contributions can be left with any bank in the city or county, mailed to the Red Cross chapter office, or a pledge can be phoned to the office. A Red Cross worker will also pick up contributions from those residents unable to visit a bank. Requests may be made to the chapter office by calling 2-1653.

Employe at Depot Wins $15 Suggestion Award

Robert D. Cooper of 297 Bellefontaine Ave. this morning received a Marion Engineer Depot suggestion award. The $15 award was presented to Cooper at 9 a.m. in brief ceremonies conducted by Col. J. Arthur Hamilton, commanding officer of the Depot, with his co-workers present.

Cooper, an employe of the mail and records branch of the Depot, received the award and a certificate of recognition. His suggestion called for a revision of the internal mail distribution system of the Depot and resulted in the elimination of one mail run per day. It is estimated that his suggestion will save the government $70 per year.

Salvation Army Play Area Has Final Program

Final event of the Salvation Army playground program for the summer was an "Everybody's Birthday Party" Monday night on the playground with about 100 children and parents attending.

For refreshments tables were decorated to correspond with the four seasons of the year. Each one present was served his or her own individual "birthday cake" which were cupcakes, each decorated with a birthday candle. Games in keeping with the birthday idea were included and devotions by Capt. Mary Nisiewicz of the Salvation Army staff were on "The Game of Life."

Statistics listed by the sponsor for the playground project included 346 sessions in 12 different activities with 279 children in the total enrollment. The class sessions included craftwork, music, both instrumental and vocal, "Happy Hour" periods, Bible School trips and outings, playground, athletic games and contests, game room, kindergarten, camping and film showings.

The summer playground program was under direction of the youth and welfare committee of the Salvation Army and play directors were Miss Ruth Hoff and Miss Ardelle Oakes. Kindergarten teachers were Mrs. Louise Kunkle and Mrs. Roma Gillespie and officers in charge were Capt. Nisiewicz, Lt. Pauline Laipply and Lt. Frances Gayheart.

Salvation Army is a Red Feather agency with funds received through Community Foundation of which Ralph Howard is president. On the army's advisory board youth committee are Cecil Gabler, Max Birnbaum, Fred Cory, Lowell Douce, Rev. J. Paul Goebel, Miss Vivian Hall, Francis Postell and Julian H. Walker.

Parents Given Tax Deduction Pointers

Parents were reminded today by the district office of the Internal Revenue Service in Columbus that their son or daughter can be taken as an exemption deduction even though he or she earns more than $600 during the summer.

The office points out that regardless how much the child earns, the parent may claim an exemption if he has furnished over half the total cost of his child's support for the year. This applies both to girls or boys working during the summer vacation prior to the start of school and to a non-student working child who will still be under 19 by the end of the tax year.

A dependent child is also entitled to an exemption deduction for himself on his own separate return, the office points out. However, if he is married and files a joint return with his wife, no dependency exemption may be claimed by the parent.

160-Foot Bailey Bridge Shipped to Flooded Area

Another Bailey bridge, this one a 160-foot span bridge, was shipped out of the Marion Engineer Depot Saturday night with Lansdale, R.I., as its destination.

Depot personnel received the request for this bridge around 4 p.m. Saturday and called in about 50 men in the storage and transportation division. They worked until 8:15 p.m. preparing the bridge for the flood-stricken New England area.

Attend Fashion Clinic

Mrs. Florence Fulton, head of fashions for Montgomery Ward & Co., has returned to Marion from a fashion clinic at Cincinnati. Also attending the clinic was H. D. Bell, manager of the Ward store here.

Inhalator Squad Called

One inhalator run was made by Marion firemen early this morning. The inhalator was used for 20 minutes on Mildred McMurray of 807 E. Church St. when she became ill. Firemen made the run at 12:43 a.m.

To Serve 4 Years

County Native, Husband Leave for Korea Hospital

"Christian medical work is one of the best ways by which to demonstrate what Christianity means and our good will toward the Korean people."

This is the belief of Dr. Ernest Weiss, former missionary physician and surgeon in China who will leave this country next month for a period of service in Korea.

Sailing with him will be his wife, the former Miss Hilda Seiter of Marion County, a registered nurse, and two daughters, one of whom was born in China. They have been guests at the home of Mrs. Weiss' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seiter of the Richland Pk., and left Monday for San Francisco. Their sailing date from the West Coast will be Sept. 10. They expect to reach Korea by Oct. 1 and their new term of service will be for at least four years.

LAST YEAR Dr. Weiss went to Seoul, Korea, to do hospital work then returned to this country this spring. He and Mrs. Weiss will join the staff of Severance Union Medical College and Hospital in Seoul, a work carried on by several Protestant denominations. Dr. Weiss will be professor of surgery and Mrs. Weiss will serve as a nurse or as a laboratory technician, whichever is needed most. The doctor maintains his status as a member of the Southwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church.

Extent of the work at the hospital is shown in its wide outreach among the ill of the area. The hospital has a 200-bed capacity but often as many as 3,000 patients a day are cared for by staff members.

An outgrowth of the first western medical work in Korea, Severance is the first medical college established in that country. Its alumni group includes at least 40 per cent of the doctors in South Korea.

History of the beginning of the work sounds almost like a fairy tale, he commented. In 1884, a medical missionary from China was employed by the American legation in Seoul. A call came to this doctor to treat the Korean royal prince who has been stabbed in a civil uprising. His life was saved and as a result the emperor gave the first building used for western medical treatment of Korean natives. The present institution dates from 1900.

DURING THE CONFLICT with the communists in Korea, Severance suffered nearly 80 per cent destruction and is being rebuilt on a new site, the campus of Chosen Christian University on the outskirts of Seoul. The hospital changed hands four times during the war and there was complete loss of equipment. In the partially renovated buildings at present the medical school and nursing school are being carried on with nearly 300 students from throughout South Korea enrolled in the former and more than 100 in the latter. There are about 200 inpatients being cared for.

The staff of approximately 80 includes instructors who are non resident on the campus. Heads of departments are nearly all native Koreans trained in this country or having had graduate work in the Western world. There are a large number of medical trainees from Korea in this country at present.

In the rebuilding program the American 8th Army has been of great assistance, Dr. Weiss said. The men became greatly concerned about the prevalence of chest diseases in the country and were much interested in the work Severance graduates were doing and asked to participate in the building of a new memorial chest hospital as part of the Severance setup.

The building will be known as the Eighth Army Memorial Chest Hospital. Up to $400,000 worth of materials, cement, steel, glass and other items for the construction has been furnished from military surplus. More than that amount is needed for additional materials and the progress of the work will depend on contributions from mission money given by the various churches interested in the building program. A portion also is from contributions of Korean alumni.

Churches in this country and elsewhere co-operating in support of Severance include Northern and Southern Presbyterian, Methodist, the United Church of Canada, the Australian Presbyterian Church, and others.

Ground breaking for the chest hospital was April 23. Present for the ceremony were General Lemnitzer of the Far East Command who turned the first shovelful of earth, and other armed forces dignitaries and Korean government officials. Dr. Weiss has acted as liaison man between Severance and the 8th Army. An American architect has been called in to assist the Korean architect.

THE CHEST UNIT will care for nearly 140 persons and will include a full operating suite for chest surgery. Spread of the chest diseases in particular among the people is the result of greatly crowded living conditions. Families of eight or 10 commonly live in one room together on less than $10 a month income. Dr. Weiss pointed out. At present most chest work is with ambulatory tuberculosis cases which may be treated at home by visiting nurses. Dr. E. B. Struthers of Canada has been in charge of the chest clinic.

In addition to interest in work among tuberculosis patients, the Americans have become much interested in the outstanding work among amputees in Seoul which has headquarters at Severance under Church World Service. A former missionary amputee is head of the project and nearly 50 per cent of cases handled are charge free. As much charity work is done as funds will permit.

Hospital work is done under quite primitive conditions. Electric power is fluctuating, and heat is a great problem. Coal is more than $30 a ton and must be imported.

Returning to his point that "Korea is a wide-open field for the Christian religion, Dr. Weiss cited from his own denomination figures which show that churches are crowded and growing. Under Methodist leadership one new church group was organized every three days during the last year and other denominations quote similar figures. Practically all education, medicine and other types of western work in Korea are outgrowths of church endeavor.

From the start of his own education, Dr. Weiss intended that his career should be in medical missions and after serving in the ministry as a pastor he continued his education in medicine.

Going to China in 1939 the year following their marriage in Prospect Street Methodist Church in Marion, Dr. and Mrs. Weiss served at Nanchang. It was during this period that China came under occupation by Japan and many missionary families were interned. Older daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Weiss, Elizabeth, now 13, was born in internment camp. Their younger daughter, Beatrice, 9, was born in Detroit, Mich., after the family was repatriated to this country.

In Detroit Dr. Weiss worked on his master's degree in surgery. The family returned to China in 1946 and was stationed again at Nanchang remaining in China five years, the last two of which were under communist rule. After return to this country Dr. Weiss took advanced medical study in preparation for his goal which has now come to be service in Korea.

Auto Club Issues Tips For Safety on Holiday

Planning to be on the highways over the Labor Day weekend?

Here are a few "stoppers" which the Automobile Club of America says can help you avoid killing yourself and others. They are: stop speeding, stop driving at night, stop for coffee, stop bumper-riding and stop when you are sleepy.

Highway accidents killed 351 persons during last year's Labor Day weekend.

Traffic Cases

Three persons were fined a total of $45 and costs in Marion Municipal Court Monday on traffic charges.

Names of the drivers who each were fined $15 and costs and the charges against them were: C. L. Marshall, 29, of Columbus, reckless driving; F. X. Dendinger, 46, of near Marion, improper loading of a truck, and L. A. Hudson, 36, of Kalamazoo, Mich., no driver's license.

Road Project Started

Work was started Monday on County Road 26, one-quarter of a mile east of Route 4 north of Marion, the County Engineer's office reported today.

A small drain pipe under the road is being replaced by a 65 inch by 40 inch corrugated pipe. Officials hope to have the project completed by the end of the week. The road is closed to traffic while work is being done.

Farmer's Day Program Set at Ohio State Fair

Exposition Drawing Big Gate; Attendance Up 38,000 in 3 Days

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Farm Organizations Day is today's highlight of the Ohio State Fair with special programs by big agricultural organizations and youth groups on the agenda.

One event will be a panel discussion by top agricultural spokesmen such as Roger Fleming, Washington, D. C., secretary of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Roy Battles, also of Washington, assistant to the master of the National Grange; Joseph W. Fichter, Oxford, representing the Farmers Union; and C. A. Gehrig, executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Farm Cooperatives.

Bill Hayes, recording star known for his "Ballad of Davy Crockett," will be the featured entertainer in the nightly "Parade of Stars" show in the grandstand.

The eight-day exposition, which runs through Friday, has been drawing large crowds. The first three days have produced an attendence of 268,239, compared with 230,236 for the same period last year.

State Agriculture Director A. L. Sorensen yesterday predicted "revolutionary changes" in the fair as a result of the St. Lawrence Seaway opening set for late 1958. He said the seaway could possibly convert the Ohio exposition into something of a "world's fair."

The seaway, Sorensen explained, will boost the state's economic outlook since Lake Erie ports will be docking points for large ocean-going vessels.

The director envisioned a state fair split in several sections. "We might have a five-day junior fair, for instance," he said. "Then we'd close up for two or three days for maintenance and open up another section of the fair."

Among other benefits of the section plan, he said, could be more participation by a wider variety of businesses, industries and other groups.

But before any of these plans can be carried out, Sorensen said, a multi-million dollar outlay would have to be made to erect new buildings and relocate fair attractions.

Yesterday's principal livestock event was the third All-American Brown Swiss Futurity, a $2,500 classic won by LaRainbow Ginger, owned by Silas and Dennis Lammers of New Knoxville. The winning heifer was calved by LaRainbow Cookie, also owned by the Lammers, while the latter was on display at the fair Aug. 25, 1952.

LaRainbow Ginger was chosen from a field of 35 entries. The competition is designed to promote better milk-producing herds in the breed.

Besides winning the first place prize of $500, LaRainbow Ginger also was awarded the rotating bronze trophy bell of the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders Assn.

assessments to Michigan truckers.

State tax officials said this meant Ohio would have to cancel more than two million dollars in assessments Michigan truckers refused to pay. They also forecast the "doom" of the axle tax, saying Ohio would lose millions more from other states with which it had reciprocity agreements.

The tax is a levy for use of Ohio highways and ranges from one-half to 2½ cents a mile on trucks with more than two axles.

Michigan Initiates Move

Lee Richardson and T. H. Van Lopack, Michigan representatives at yesterday's meeting, proposed the resolution condemning Ohio's amendment plan.

Nebraska's delegate, Dale Rogers, told newsmen that "if the agreement between Nebraska and Ohio is rescinded, there will not be another agreement."

William B. Westbrook, Illinois reciprocity board chairman, said if Ohio's agreement with his state is terminated, "no vehicle owned by an Ohio resident—passenger or truck—would be allowed to enter Illinois without paying the Illinois annual license fee."

Passenger car license fees in Illinois range from $10.50 to $22 depending on horsepower; truck fees are much higher. The fee for a 41,000-pound truck is $640.

Ohio's Gov. Frank J. Lausche has said the proposed amendments would have no effect on passenger cars from reciprocating states.

Arms

Jules Moch of France outlined his government's idea of budgetary controls, with savings from reduced military expenditures to be directed toward helping underdeveloped countries.

Paul Martin of Canada said his delegation would give careful consideration to all proposals.

Lodge said that the meeting of the subcommittee was the first test of the practical value of the Geneva meeting.

Recipient Named

OSU Alumni Group Here Is Winner of Scholarship

Recipient of a scholarship to Ohio State University, won by the Marion County Chapter of the Ohio State Alumni Association, is John Barnhart, 18. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Barnhart of Denmark, until recently residents of Marion.

The Marion County Chapter was one of 10 winners of the scholarships presented by the Association as a result of a campaign conducted last fall for the Ohio State University Development Fund.

THE MARION County chapter ranked highest in the country in the campaign, the rating based on percentage of participation by alumni members and the amount of money obtained over quota. This marks the fourth straight year the local chapter has won a scholarship.

John Barnhart attended Marion schools throughout his 12 years, graduating from Harding High School in June, this year. Freshman week at Ohio State begins Sept. 19 and John will study music education.

Active in music groups and contest events in high school, John played baritone horn in the Harding band and the string bass in the Harding orchestra. He also was a member of the senior choir and played in The Stardusters, the school dance band.

He received superior ratings in district and state solo contests on the string bass two years in succession, was a member of the regional orchestra for the state of Ohio for two years, and participated in the all-Ohio symphony orchestra last March 4-6 in Cleveland.

This summer John is working at Gruber's Market on N. Grand Ave.

TO DETERMINE the recipient of the scholarship, pupils in all city and county public schools and the parochial school were notified of the available scholarship after which interested students made applications. Representatives of the schools then selected one from each school and the final selection was made by Ohio State University officials.

A new fund-raising campaign is set to be held again this September. Chairman of the drive for Marion County is J. F. Weis, who headed the campaign last fall. Serving as co-chairmen are William Dunning and John P. Courtright. Miss Madge Cooper is president of the local chapter.

In last year's campaign, the Marion County Chapter raised approximately $1,200. Its membership is 360.

Sewers

establishing a set of minimum standards for all sewer construction in the city, the department adds.

This law would establish the size, type and material of all sewers in the city based on whether they were for the purpose of serving residences, commercial businesses or industries, the engineers explain.

This law, coupled with the inspection law, would do much to help prevent future mistakes in sewer construction in and around the city, they add.

As for sewers within the city which now are in need of improvements, there are several, the engineers say. Which ones would rate top priority in any improvement program would best be determined by a survey, they add.

—:—

SOME OF THE more obvious trouble spots include the Indiana Ave. sewers, the Wilson Ave. sewer east of Greenwood St., the E. Church St. sewer east of Baker St. and the Silver St. sewer. But there are many others which like these are also overloaded and need replacement or repairs, the engineering department notes.

These are some of the problems which Marion faces in connection with its sewage system. They are problems which are going to cost many thousands of dollars to correct.

But unless they are corrected, the city is doomed to suffer from lack of growth.

The Chamber of Commerce points out the city cannot grow unless building sites are available for construction of housing projects. These building sites are available around the perimeter of the city but will not be opened up until sewers are available to serve them, the Chamber points out.

This is partly because of a recent crackdown by the FHA on the use of septic tanks for sewage disposal in all except very special cases.

The inescapable conclusion seems to be then, that if Marion wants to grow and attract new industries to locate here, the city must take immediate steps to improve its sewer system.

Union Deadline Set On Goodrich Talks

The CIO United Rubber Workers Union has set Sept. 6 as the deadline for reaching an agreement in wage negotiations with the B. F. Goodrich Co.

The union has announced only that it is seeking a "substantial" pay raise and a guaranteed annual wage for the workers in the nine Goodrich plants. Included in the nine is the plant near Green Camp where approximately 140 workers would be affected by any new contract.

The negotiations have been in progress in New York about one week. About 15,000 workers in the nine plants would be afefcted by any agreement. Besides the local plant, Goodrich also has plants in Akron, Tuscaloosa, Ala., Cadillac, Mich., Miami, Okla., Oaks, Pa., Los Angeles, Calif., Clarksville, Tenn. and Riverside, N. J.

School Building in City Damaged by Vandalism

Report of malicious destruction of property at the Mark St. school was under investigation today by Marion police.

The building custodian, Ray Snyder, Monday found that someone had shot out three glass door panes with a BB gun. Police estimated that about 24 shots had been fired at the door glasses and found several pellets from the gun.

Snyder said the door panes were shot out sometime after Friday.

"The secretary of agriculture," he said, "campaigns against the programs he is supposed to administer—and then uses their failure to argue that support prices ought to be lowered."

Truman said he thought the record would show "that this sanctimonious administration is having its own troubles with corruption," which he said was the "deliberate use of the power of the executive branch to undermine the laws it is sworn to execute faithfully so that their benefits flow to the privileged few instead of to all our citizens."

"One glaring example of this is the Dixon-Yates mess," he said.

Man Found Not Guilty Of Bad Check Charge

A Plymouth man was found not guilty in Marion Municipal Court Monday to two charges of fraud filed against him by two Marion men.

Donald Giesige was accused of issuing worthless checks for $97 to the Home Furniture Co. and for $207 and $52 to Frank Bruno.

Giesige had pleaded not guilty to both charges and Judge W. Dexter Hazen found him not guilty after the hearing Monday.

Man Fined $50, Costs

Robert D. Walters, 20, of 471 S. Prospect St. was fined $50 and costs in Marion Municipal Court Monday on an assault and a battery charge filed against him by R. C. Rech. The charge was filed as a result of a fight at a night club south of Marion Friday night. Walters pleaded guilty to the charge in Municipal Court Saturday but sentence was delayed until Monday.

Big Question

By George Sokolsky

The Fund for the Republic was established by the Ford Foundation and was given 15 million dollars which Paul Hoffman, Robert Hutchins and W. H. Ferry, together with a front of trustees, were to spend for general purposes. The Ford Trustees stated:

SOKOLSKY

"The foundation will support activities directed toward the elimination of restrictions on freedom of thought, inquiry, and expression in the United States, and the development of policies and procedures best adapted to protect these rights in the face of persistent international tension."

Nobody can object to any group fighting for civil liberties of various kinds and a great many organizations exist for such purposes in the United States, as, for instance, the American Civil Liberties Union, the Anti-Defamation League, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, etc., etc.

THESE ORGANIZATIONS have been long in existence and, preferred or opposed, they are well-known and understood.

The difference between these bodies and The Fund for the Republic, which the Ford Foundation established, is that whereas all the others are voluntary organizations of citizens who believe in a cause and set themselves up to fight for it and are subject to the criticism of their members and the withholding of support, The Fund for the Republic, on the other hand, consists of trustees and a hired office staff who are subject to no control, have no members, and have an enormous treasury which is income-tax free.

The actual manager of this operation is a former newspaper man, W. H. Ferry, familiary known as "Ping" Ferry.

FERRY IS REPUTED to be fanatically enthusiastic about whatever he does and has turned The Fund for the Republic into a kind of actions committee whose pattern may best be discerned by the books, articles and other material which it has distributed widely with the object of influencing public opinion:

"'Banned Books' by Anne Lyon Haight. Book. 275 distributed to May 31. Librarians and library trustees. "Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists." Special issue on loyalty-security. 25,000 copies. Lists selected by publisher. "Cornell Series in Civil Liberties.' Books. Fund personnel; lists selected by publisher. "Faceless Informers and Our Schools" by Lawrence Martin. Pamphlet. 25,000 copies. State school board associations. "Freedom Award Speeches." Pamphlet. 600 copies. National Civil Liberties Clearing House. "Government by Investigation" by Alan Barth. Book. 850 copies. Lists selected by publisher.

"'GRAND INQUEST' by Telford Taylor. Book. 45-copies. Federal Bench. "Open Occupancy Housing." Article. 'House and Home.' 15,000 copies. National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing; others in race relations field. "See It Now." Murrow-Oppenheimer television interview. One hundred ten 16 mm. prints. Educational institutions; civic organizations; local discussion groups. "See It Now." Television program on book censorship in California. Five 16 mm. prints. Southern California civic groups.

"'Strong in Their Pride and Free' by Harry P. Cain. Speech. 3,000 copies. National Civil Liberties Clearing House. "The Fifth Amendment Today" by Erwin N. Griswold. Book. 35,000 copies. Bench and bar.

-:-

"'THE KEPT WITNESSES' by Richard H. Rovere. Article. 25,000 copies. Labor officials; business executives.

"'The Pseudo-Conservative Revolt' by Richard Hofstadter. Article. 25,000 copies, a business executives; educators; churchmen.

"'To Insure the End of Our Hysteria' by Paul G Hoffman. Article. Emergency Civil Liberties Committee; American Dental Association.

"'To Make Our Security System Secure' by Vannevar Bush. Article. 10,000 copies. Educators.

"'Who "Collaborated" With Russia?' by Paul Willen. Article 600 copies. National Civil Liberties Clearing House."

The list is all one-sided. It is anti-FBI, anti-congressional committees investigating subversives. Certainly any citizens can be anti-FBI and anti-congressional committees.

The question arises: If rich corporations can set up tax-free foundations to propagate a particular point of view, is there not a possibility of limiting freedom of debate because no tax-free money is available for another point of view

Lillian E. James Scholarship Created for Cardington Pupils

CARDINGTON — Begining with the class of 1956, students at the Cardington High School will be eligible to compete for a $1,000 scholarship to an accredited college, as the result of a trust fund which has been set up in memory of a former teacher, the late Miss Lillian James. The fund is being established by Miss James' brother, Joy James of Los Angeles, Calif.

A native of Cardington and the vicinity, Miss James graduated from the local high school in 1888 and began her teaching career in the vicinity. Later she attended Ohio Wesleyan University and became a high school teacher. For 30 years, she was associated with the Cardington school, teaching English and Latin as her special subjects, and generations of graduates held her name and those subjects synonymously. Never strong physically, Miss James was forced to retire at the close of the year in 1924. Moving to Mount Gilead, she died there in 1936.

Named Trustee of Fund

The Huntington National Bank of Columbus has been named trustee of the "Lillian E. James Scholarship Award" and winners will be selected by the Cardington school board from a list which will be approved by the superintendent of schools and two teachers named by him, according to the rules set up by the trust fund.

Pupils must meet certain standards to be eligible for the scholarship award. Qualifications set up by the W. J. James document are: "Reverence for God and His works, ability to contribute to the welfare of mankind, sound common sense, scholastic attainment, personality, courtesy, consideration for others, character and ability to lead, sound economic judgment as opposed to academic; energy, balanced enthusiasm and aggressiveness; complete freedom from socialistic ideas and impracticable "isms" of vague and nebulous value."

First Award Established

The scholarship fund is the first for Cardington and any balance from the total trust estate will be used by the school for books and library funds. The estate sets up definite rules which makes it possible for the trustees to withhold payment of a scholarship in any one year if they consider that no student is qualified to receive it. Also, in the event the selected pupil is not accepted by the college he chooses or is not able to complete the entire term covered by the scholarship fund, the balance will be turned over to the Cardington School.

W. J. James, who is 77, is retired after being employed many years as traveling auditor for the Akron Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

'Smear Ike' Drive

By Victor Riesel

General Eisenhower is facing one of the most intense barrages ever laid down against him — a cold, methodical drive by labor to destroy his personal popularity and reputation.

VICTOR RIESEL

The decision to uncork this campaign was made inside labor's top policy making sanctums, and the lead is being taken by those experts of CIO who were raised in the old "class-struggle" days.

The new drive, unleashed a few days ago, springs from labor's certainty that the President will stand for re-election next year. Not a minor part of this campaign against the President is the mounting anger in labor circles over Department of Justice efforts to crack down on heavy political expenditures by the unions.

The first real blast at the President came from an expert in this business, Jack Kroll, who succeeded the late Sidney Hillman as director of the CIO Political Action Committee.

KROLL, A VETERAN of labor drives since 1910, can paint a capitalist and a Republican more horrifyingly than a science-fiction writer's description of "things" from outer space. If Ike wants to know just what they will be calling him from now on out, he should get a copy of a speech prepared by Kroll for delivery at the Woodworkers' Union convention in Milwaukee.

The President will discover that the CIO political spokesman blames the White House for everything from deep corruption to polio-stricken children in iron lungs. This speech will make history not only for marking labor's "open season" on President Eisenhower but for signaling the return to a labor jargon most of us had thought abandoned.

Those who heard or read the speech came away with the impression that Ike was likened to Hitler, Lenin and Mussolini.

KROLL PULLED no punches in his return to the old war cries of the class struggle days on 1910 picket lines. He said:

"The Eisenhower administration is the most corrupt administration this country has had since the Harding regime and — if it is allowed to continue in office — will result in the complete domination of our government by Wall Street . . . Nowadays the game they play in the White House is a version of the old shell game— you're supposed to guess which shell the buck is under . . ."

Kroll, who worked with Sidney Hillman for over 35 years and now is the political spokesman for Walter Reuther, hurled the attacks with the speed of a younger Bob Feller.

Kroll charged President Eisenhower with sabotage of sick children, school children and the working class. Sprinkled through the talk were the old fashioned hissing words like "bankers" and new ones like "The Big Mink Administration."

-:-

THEN KROLL hit the President with this:

"It is true that as long as you use the power of the state to silence your opposition, you can go on being elected forever—or almost forever.

"Lenin found it out in Russia, Mussolini in Italy and Hitler in Germany . . ."

This was the first of many such talks to come. The big guns, such as Walter Reuther, will soon be ready to move up.

In Washington, White House strategists realize that their two-and-a-half-year effort to woo labor has failed. They have named scores of labor men to important positions. Reuther's own staffers are running important government posts in embassies from Paris to Pakistan.

UNKNOWN TO THE REST of the country, this White House policy has caused a sharp behind-the-scenes battle between the AFL and CIO.

I have seen documents proving that AFL leaders were chagrined, to put it mildly, at the number of CIO appointments to our foreign services. In many embassies the ambassador himself frequently consulted CIO people. They were also placed on domestic advisory boards.

Every effort was made by the White House staff to give CIO full representation and thus avoid the criticism that the administration was discriminating against CIO.

Now the CIO has declared war on Eisenhower, his ethics and his habits as well as his policies. Unless he turns the other cheek, we may see wholesale purges of many of our government services here and abroad. The home-front cold war is on.

Audie Murphy

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

What is a war hero like 10 years after he leaves his last battleground? Ten years ago Audie Murphy was still too young to vote or grow a mustache, came home as America's most decorated soldier of World War II. His 24 decorations included the medal of honor and a purple heart for each of his three battle wounds.

HAL BOYLE

The fanfare of a nation's acclaim first bewildered the 20-year-old kid from Texas, then made him a bit resentful.

"All I wanted was some peace, and time to think things through," he recalled.

—:—

AUDIE, ONE OF nine children of a tenant farmer, wanted to forget the war that everyone he met seemed to want to remember. He first thought he'd like to go to West Point, but decided against it. He felt he wouldn't make a good peacetime soldier. Then he thought of going to college and studying to become a veterinarian. But there was a stumbling block — he had only an 8th grade education. Then a movie offer came along, and he felt he had to take it.

"I had the responsibility of helping two younger sisters and a brother who were in an orphanage while I was away at war," he said.

In Hollywood Audie went up like a rocket—and came down almost as fast. His contract was dropped. He made a marriage that lasted only a year. He lapsed into a semi-obscurity.

But in the years since then Audie has shown the stubborn fighting qualities that made him outstanding in combat. He is no flash hero.

He has now appeared in 15 pictures. His latest, Universal's "To Hell and Back"—based on his own fabulous career—has brought him to the top again. He has remarried happily, and has two children. His future looks secure.

"I still wish I could have gone back to school," he said a little wistfully, "but it has worked better this way—at least financially.

"I average about $2,000 a week now and have a six-year contract. In another five years I should be independent. By that I don't mean I'll be a millionaire. But I'll be able to have a ranch or a farm and enough put by to send my children to college."

Audie, part of whose right hip was shot away, draws $93 a month pay as the result of a 50 per cent disability rating. For three years, until he joined the Texas National Guard as a captain, he refused the money. Now he feels it is fair to take it.

—:—

MURPHY STILL HOLDS a steadfast love for the Army and says the war didn't disillusion him.

"War is like a giant pack rat," he remarked. "It takes something from you, and it leaves something behind in its stead."

"It burned me out in some ways, so that now I feel like an old man but still sometimes act like a dumb kid. It made me grow up too fast.

"You live so much on nervous excitement that when it's over you suddenly fall apart.

"That's what war took from me —the excitement of living, getting a thrill out of the little things in life. That's too bad, for it's a great asset to get a kick out of little things. I still get more kick out of seeing other people have fun than looking for it myself.

"I don't get excited. The biggest thrill I have now is coming home and wrestling with my kids—the little devils. But usually I go to bed before they do."

—:—

AUDIE, WHO WEIGHED only 117 pounds when he enlisted, has grown three inches taller and gained nearly 40 pounds since then. He feels this is what he gained from war:

"It taught me how to get along with people, not to be selfish. War is a pretty good course in public relations.

"The first time you see a man topple over in combat you learn that the war isn't just yours—that you have a responsibility to the guy on your left and the guy on your right. It's the same way in peace. Peace doesn't give you the same comradeship as war. It can't. There isn't the sameness of purpose. But you still have a responsibility to the guys on your left and right."

His studio biography says Audie slew 240 enemy soldiers in combat. And the question he hates most to be asked is, "How does it feel to have killed 240 men?"

"To begin with, I didn't kill that many," he said. "And anyway, how the hell does anyone think it felt? It didn't feel either way, good or bad. Feeling wasn't a luxury in the infantry."

Audie still likes to go skin fishing, but somehow I don't like to shoot animals anymore," said the 30-year-old ex-soldier, and added wryly:

"I'm just a chicken-hearted slob now."

Bucyrus Public Schools Open This Thursday

BUCYRUS — It will be back to school here Thursday for an estimated 2,130 pupils, an increase of about 75 over last year's opening day figures.

It will be the second consecutive year that Bucyrus public schools have opened on Sept. 1 to permit an earlier closing in the spring.

Seven new teachers will begin their duties this week. They include Mrs Ferenc Szasz, Bucyrus, who taught part of last year, Don F. Tschanen, Bucyrus, and James M. Boring, Delaware, all assigned to high school posts; James W. Cox, Brinkhaven, who will be industrial arts teacher, and Miss Carol Focht of Waynesfield, O., who will teach vocational home economics. New elementary teachers are Mrs. Robert Donnenwirth, Bucyrus, and Mrs. Ellis Agene of near Bucyrus.

Supt. I. J Miller reminded parents today that there will be no bus this year to transport kindergarten pupils to school, in keeping with a policy of assigning each kindergarten-age child to his district building

Miller pointed out that the space situation in kindergarten classes will be critical this year The old stage in Lincoln School has been ripped out and converted into a new classroom and two portable classrooms have been set up in the auditorium of Kearsley School.

Six rooms in the school system are designated as "substandard," including those in basements and auditoriums.

A $1,650,000 bond issue to provide additional school rooms will be submitted to voters at the Nov 8 election. The program would provide two new elementary buildings, costing an estimated $381,558 each, and four-room additions to four other elementary schools.

Cardington Store Gets New Owners

CARDINGTON—E L. Burroughs and Ralph Porterfield of Mount Gilead have taken possession of the former Ruhlman-Miller hardware store here which they purchased from Robert H. Miller

Miller's father, the late George C Miller, with G H Ruhlman started the hardware business in 1895 Miller died in 1939 and his son entered the business as Ruhlman's partner Ten years ago, Ruhlman sold his share to Miller The sale of the business, terminates a 60-year "landmark" in the village Miller is retiring because of ill health.

Ralph Porterfield formerly lived in Cardington, but has been associated with the state highway department and the Hydraulic Press Mfg Co. for a total of almost 30 years. Burroughs, formerly of Marion and Cleveland, has been residing in Mount Gilead for eight years where he has been employed as a paperhanger.

The new owners plan to operate on the same basis as the former owner, but expect to expand to include interior decorating and painting The sale of the business included the two-story brick building which houses it and the trucks.

Cleveland Man Hurt in Crash

One person was injured in one of two traffic accidents investigated in Marion County today by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

Joseph Vivo 69, of Cleveland, was rushed to Marion General Hospital in an L A Axe and Son ambulance with head and neck and possible internal injuries suffered in a collision on Route 30S two miles west of the intersection with Route 203 at 10 35 a.m. today.

Vivo was a passenger in a car driven by Mrs Dorothy E Zink, also of Cleveland, which skidded into the rear of another car driven by Mrs. Ilone Lane of 321 Silver St.

Both cars were traveling west on Route 30S and Mrs. Lane had stopped to make a left turn onto Marion County Road 33. Mrs. Zink saw that Mrs. Lane's car was stopped too late to avoid hitting it, she told investigating patrolmen. She was cited to appear in Marion Municipal Court Sept. 7 on a charge of failure to stop within the assured clear distance ahead.

Another driver was charged with the same offense in a similar collision at 7 45 a m this morning at Routes 95 and 98 east of Marion.

A car driven by Patricia Ann Mohat of Waldo crashed into the rear of another car driven by Wayne VanHorn Jr., 27, of Columbus which was stopped about 50 feet south of Route 95 on Route 98 Both were headed north. Miss Mohat was cited to appear in Municipal Court on Sept 10 on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

Driver Reports Mishap

An accident happening Sunday night was reported to the sheriff's office Monday afternoon by the driver of the car involved in the mishap.

Edward McElroy, 16, of near Prospect told deputies Monday afternoon that he was involved in a mishap on County Road 45, about five miles west of Green Camp at 6 30 p m Sunday.

He said he swerved to the side of the road to avoid an oncoming car and skidded into a ditch. The car then struck a farm fence owned by Carl Rothfuss of near Marion, McElroy told deputies The right side, trunk and underpart of his car were damaged, he said.

Child Injured

A Marion pedestrian was injured in one of two traffic accidents investigated Monday by Marion police.

Two-year-old Patty Goins of 278 Senate St. suffered a cut on her head when she ran into the side of a car in front of her home at 5 12 p m. Taken to Marion General Hospital in a police cruiser, she was treated for her injury and later returned to her home. Driver of the car which she ran into was Charles R. Vance, 27, of 872 N. Main St.

Only other accident in the city involved two automobiles and a bicycle, Edward Junior Jackson, 16, of 1200 Bryant St, driving west on E Fairground St., and making a left turn onto N. State St., first struck a telephone pole at the corner, then a parked bicycle owned by Dan Truex of 817 N. State St and finally a parked car owned by Arnold D. Womack of 653 N. State St.

Students Play Stocks, College Makes Money

ERIE, Pa (AP)—Ganon College students are using the school's money to play the stock market, and what's more, their investments are showing a tidy profit

True, the students have nothing to lose. But they're having fun and learning something about the business world, says the college

The money they use comes from a "student investment fund given the school in 1950 by Publisher Edward Lamb of the Erie Dispatch Lamb has duplicated his original grant of $2,500 three times and the $10,000 has been invested by students in stocks with a current market value of $12,260. Their net profit of $2,260 does not include operating expenses and taxes. The profits go back to the college

Lamb said the purpose of the fund was to give the students an opportunity to gain practical experience in the mechanical operations of the stock market, the art of research and analysis and "the activities and potentiality in different fields of industry which might influence their decision in choosing future employment"

Meetings to discuss the fund are held weekly by the students But only business and finance students are allowed to vote on investments As certain securities come up for discussion, groups of students are assigned to do research and report on their analysis

Stock is bought only after all angles have been considered. And the same procedure is used in selling stock

Tribe Calls Regalado and Two Others For Help During Pennant Drive in AL

FUNNY EXPRESSION. Nashua casts an eye sidewise at his stable in Homewood, Ill., as much as to say he'll make a sweep of his match race with Swaps. Nashua, beaten in the Kentucky Derby, hopes to reverse the verdict at Washington Park.

Special Ruling From Frick Allows Return of Infielder

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, opening a two-game series tonight against Baltimore's Orioles, will beef their ranks with three more players for the four-game weekend visit by the Chicago White Sox.

The Tribe is bringing in Rudy Regalado and Billy Harrell from Indianapolis and Bud Daley, a recent purchase from Sacramento.

It took a special dispensation from Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to get Regalado back from option. Ordinarily, no player on option can be recalled from Aug. 1 until the end of the particular minor league season. But Frick made an exception to provide a replacement for Vic Wertz, stricken with polio last week.

Regalado, playing third base and the outfield for Indianapolis, is batting .325 and has driven in 66 runs. Harrell, a shortstop and outfielder, has a .277 batting average with 54 RBI's. Daley, a southpaw pitcher, has won 18 and lost 13 with an earned run average of 3.58.

Since major league clubs can carry as many as 40 players after Sept. 1, it will not be necessary to trim anyone to admit the newcomers.

Bob Lemon is scheduled to pitch against the Orioles tonight, and Herb Score tomorrow. Up to now, the Indians have won 15 of 18 games with Baltimore.

Early Wynn, unable to take his turn last Sunday because of a sore elbow, is tentatively slated to open against the White Sox Friday night.

Prexy Gridders Prep for Drill With Madison

Harding High School's grid candidates were sent through their final workouts today by Coach Gordon Larson prior to a scrimmage with Mansfield Madison at the Stadium Wednesday night.

Larson, who will give his squad a rest tomorrow, said today Harding was at pretty full strength for its first taste of outside opposition Wednesday.

He reported only a few bumps and bruises. Several gridders whom Larson explained were slightly banged up didn't dress and were given the day off to recover.

Two gridders injured last week still remain out, Larson reported. Dick Penry is shaking the effects of a pulled thigh ligament and Lester Prude is recovering from a couple of teeth lost in practice.

Larson reported his gridders were "coming along" after slightly over a week of practice but explained they still "need a lot of polish."

Today, he explained the Prexy squad would get "plays timed up" and also work on punting. "We are still experimenting with a few changes in personnel," Larson reported, and he explained that "as far as I'm concerned, everything is wide open."

JOE FACES MORE CURVES. Here are some curves that would make a monkey out of any batter. Gina Lollabrigida is the curvaceous one, the monkey is Billy, one of the actors in Gina's new film, "Trapeze," and the batter is Joe DiMaggio, former New York Yankees slugger. Mylos, the clown, completes the quartet on the Paris film set which Joe visited on the way to see his parents' birthplace in Palermo, Sicily.

Tigers Drop 2

White Sox Opening Payoff Series; Meet Boston, Indians

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

The second-place Chicago White Sox, stumbling along like the rest of the American League contenders, take their first dose of a kill 'em or cure 'em remedy tonight.

All the White Sox have to do is play two games with fourth-place Boston and four with third-place Cleveland in the next six days.

Manager Marty Marion's guys aren't exactly sickly, not when they're just a half game behind first-place New York. But they aren't really robust, either, after losing five of their last eight—and with four of the defeats at the hands of seventh-place Washington and last-place Baltimore.

If the Sox turn hot, they could be sitting pretty as they make their final swing through the East next week. If they drop the two series, it might be all over.

Baltimore slapped fifth - place Detroit 13½ games back Monday by sweeping a doubleheader 6-0 and 4-3. That was the only action in the league.

In the National, Brooklyn made it three straight by whipping St. Louis 10-4 to go 12 games out front again; Chicago's Cubs spilled the New York Giants to a fifth straight defeat 6-3, and Cincinnati homered past Philadelphia and Robin Roberts 4-3. Milwaukee and Pittsburgh were idle.

Erv Palica set down the Tigers in the first game with a five-hitter. Baltimore had 10 hits while battering loser Steve Gromek, including a two-run homer by Gus Triandos. In the nightcap, it was a bases-loaded single by Freddie Marsh that won for the Orioles, overcoming a 3-2 Detroit lead in the seventh inning.

A beanball battle flared early at Ebbets Field, but Plate Umpire Jocko Conlan put his foot down in the fourth inning, warning both managers after Stan Musial was hit on the right hand by a Johnny Podres pitch and Cardinal right-hander Tom Poholsky had hummed one behind Jackie Robinson.

Ken Boyer homered to bring the Cards within 5-4 of the Brooks in the seventh, but Duke Snider and Carl Furillo homered for the Dodgers in their half of the frame.

The Phillies, who had won 9 of 10, couldn't hold a 3-0 lead as the Redlegs tagged Roberts (21-10) for four home runs. Wally Post hit a pair, with his 34th wrapping it up in the ninth.

The Cubs also smacked four home runs, two by Harry Chiti, while belting four Giant hurlers for 14 hits. Jim Hearn was the loser (14-13) while Warren Hacker won his 11th behind a seven-hitter.

2 Top Passers To Lock Horns In Grid Battle

BALTIMORE (AP) —Two of the nation's top collegiate quarterbacks last season will meet here tonight in the infancy of their professional football careers.

Ralph Guglielmi, formerly of Notre Dame, will do most of the passing and signal calling for the Washington Redskins while George Shaw, from Oregon, will do 50 per cent of the quarterbacking for the Baltimore Colts when the traditional rivals meet in a National Football League exhibition.

Guglielmi, who was outstanding in the College All-Star's 30-27 upset of the Cleveland Browns Aug. 12 will start for the 'Skins. Jack Scarbath, former Maryland great who came to the Colts this season from the Redskins where he never lived up to expected greatness, will start for Baltimore but will alternate with Shaw.

Still Ranks as Great

Ty Cobb's Debut in Majors Made 50 Years Ago Today

(Fifty years ago today the name of Cobb—the fabulous, immortal, controversial Tyrus Raymond Cobb—first appeared in a major league box score with the Detroit Tigers.

To mark this historic occasion, H. G. Salsinger, veteran sports editor of the Detroit News, has written a special column on Cobb.

Salsinger covered Cobb's career practically in its entirety, and is considered the nation's foremost historian on him.

Salsinger has made his column available to the Associated Press.)

By H. G. SALSINGER
Sports Editor The Detroit News

DETROIT (AP) —Memorandum: Fifty years ago today the name Cobb appeared in a box score for the first time. It appeared in 3,032 more box scores before it vanished 24 years later.

Brilliant and unorthodox, a fiery genius and the game's outstanding individualist, Cobb made baseball history for more than two decades. He dominated the game.

He gained pre-eminence not because he was the fastest base runner, nor the best base stealer, nor the fleetest fielder, nor the leading hitter but because he had the nimblest brain that baseball has known.

He had the ability to perceive a situation and take advantage of it before his opponents became aware of it. He was a keener student of the game than his contemporaries and understood the game better than they did. More than that, he understood them better than they understood themselves. He knew their mechanical faults and weaknesses but he also knew their strength.

He was baseball's greatest player because he out-thought them, kept a play ahead of them. He was not the greatest fielder, since there were several better. He was not the greatest place hitter since Wee Willie Keeler was admittedly better. He was not the greatest slugger since a dozen or more players could hit the ball farther. He was not the fastest man in the game since several others were just as fast and a few probably faster.

His wide edge over the field was mental. He thought quicker than any rival and he put his mechanical skill to better use than they did. Many of his hits were attributed to superior speed but the explanation does not cause fielders to overhurry the way Cobb did. They did not upset infields the way Cobb did.

In running bases, Cobb's lightning brain worked faster than his legs. Branch Rickey, who managed the St. Louis Browns when Cobb was at the peak of his career, commented one day:

"He has brains in his feet."

He continually crossed up infielders. He would break unexpectedly and fail to break when they expected him to run.

Every move he made was carefully planned. Going into a base he knew what the infielder would do. He developed different slides, including the hook, the fallaway and fadeaway.

He was not a natural hitter when he entered organized baseball and he could not get a loud foul off a lefthander. By the time he became established as the league's top player he could hit lefthanders better than righthanders.

Cobb scored from first on singles, streaked from first to third, or scored from second on sacrifice bunts and infield outs. The delayed steal was one of his favorites. He would turn first base on an outfield single, come to a stop, and when the outfielder pulled back his arm to lob the ball to the infield, Cobb was off.

He was so far ahead of the field that comparisons seem odious. When he retired in 1928, after 24 years of big league competition, he left behind enough records to convince the most skeptical of his rightful place at the head of the all-time ranking.

Cobb was probably the greatest competitor any sport has known, the fiercest. He was at his best when the pressure was on. He was one of the poorest losers in sport and his bitter dread of defeat made him a spectacular winner. He could endure anything but failure.

He is baseball's lonely figure sitting on the Olympian heights. There has been only one Tyrus Raymond Cobb and the game will never see his like again for the pattern of play has changed and not for the better either.

Baseball Meeting Set

A meeting of the Baseball for Boys Commission will be held tonight at 7:45 at the Marion YMCA. Election of new officers will be the No. 1 item on the agenda.

Columbus Jets Belted, Drop to Seventh Place

By The Associated Press

Toronto was faltering a month ago when they sent for Joe—and Joe Taylor, that is, lifted the Leafs when they showed signs of starting the plunge down to third place in the International League.

Taylor, purchased from the Pacific Coast League in mid - July, joined the Leafs as the champions were in the process of dissipating their substantial lead. A versatile athlete, Taylor began by filling in for the slumping Sam Jethroe. Since then, he has played all the outfield positions and has spelled Lou Limmer at firstbase when the big slugger hasn't felt up to par.

Last night, dividing his time between center and right field, Taylor banged out three hits, including a two-run homer, scored twice and knocked in five runs in Toronto's 9-2 victory over Havana. In the 40 odd games in which he's participated, Taylor has collected 51 safeties—27 for extra bases, 11 of them home runs—and has 35 RBI's.

The Royals are staying doggedly on the heels of the Leafs, thanks to Ken Lehman, who is in the midst of a sensational pitching streak. Lehman shut out the Syracuse Chiefs on six hits 7-0. The victory gave the southpaw the first International League 20 game winner, and it was his fourth consecutive whitewash job.

In the other contests, Buffalo edged Columbus 4-3 to climb over the Jets into sixth place by a full game. In a 13-inning game, the Rochester Red Wings eked out a 6-5 victory over Richmond on Stan Jok's two-out squeeze bunt in the top of the last inning.

Pennsylvania's Restrictions on Boxing Ended

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A ban on professional boxing in Pennsylvania will be lifted Wednesday says Gov. George M. Leader.

Leader announced Monday that immediately after he signs into law a new boxing code he will end the ban he imposed shortly after the Julio Mederos - Harold Johnson fight in Philadelphia May 6.

"This new code gives the State Athletic Commission the legal tools to make boxing a clean sport rather than a crooked business in Pennsylvania," Leader said. The new code, passed by the State General Assembly, gives the commission tighter control over boxing.

The ban followed reports by commission physicians that Johnson was drugged prior to the May 6 nationally televised fight in the Philadelphia Arena.

3 Teams Deadlocked For Third in AA Chase

By The Associated Press

Now they have a three-way tie for third place to break before American Association fans know who's going into the post-season playoffs.

Further scrambling a skin tight runnerup race, Minneapolis, spilled Omaha, 5-3, while Toledo and Louisville split a twin bill last night. Toledo took a 6-5 decision and Louisville retaliated, 9-7.

Meanwhile, Indianapolis shoved Charleston deeper into the cellar, 4-3 and wet grounds kept St. Paul from playing at Denver

Brethren, Greenwood Handed Losses in Church Loop Action

Church of the Brethren and Greenwood, runners-up to first-place Trinity in the Church League race, were handed reversals by St. Mary and Epworth last night at Garfield Park.

St. Mary scored early to whip Brethren 5-1 and Epworth tallied in the late frames to edge Greenwood 5-4.

Brethren now has a 6-5 mark in league play while Greenwood is 5-5, compared with Trinity's 7-3 slate.

Three runs in the first proved to be enough as St. Mary dumped Church of the Brethren in the opener. Single runs in the next two frames concluded the scoring while the losers collected their lone run in the seventh on three hits.

Norris allowed the losers seven hits and was supported by a 13-hit attack off Garrison of Brethren. D. Shoemaker led the hitters with four for four. He banged out a single, double, triple and one of the longest home runs hit in the Church League this season. B. Shoemaker came in with three hits.

Dan Day struck out 15 Greenwood batters and allowed only four hits, then batted in the winning run in the last of the eighth.

Greenwood jumped off to a 3-0 edge with a single tally in the third and two in the fourth and Epworth was forced to come from behind for the win. A run in the fourth and two in the fifth by Epworth tied the score at 3-3 and both squads scored once in the seventh to send the tilt into overtime.

Miley toiled for the losers and gave up seven hits to Epworth. Mathias paced the Epworth offense with three hits.

Cincinnati Squad Ready For Final Legion Drive

ST. PAUL (AP) —Cincinnati goes into today's opening of the "Little World Series" of American Legion Junior baseball with more wins than other team.

The Cincinnati Postal Employes Post No. 216 has a 37-4 record.

"Records don't mean a thing here," said Bob Kenney, Cincinnati team manager. "We proved that before. Why, we beat Michigan City this year, and they had won 28 in a row."

In the initial game this afternoon, Lincoln, Neb., meets Salisbury, N. C.

Cincinnati plays Bunker Hill Post of Washington, D. C., tonight.

1,500 Golfers Begin Drives For National Amateur Title

By The Associated Press

Nearly 1,500 golfers, duffers and top names alike, played in sectional qualifying rounds across the nation today in the first leg of the National Amateur Golf Championship.

A total of 187 berths remain to be filled for the championship tournament, to be held Sept. 12-17 at the James River course of the Country Club of Virginia at Richmond.

The U. S. Golf Assn. accepted a record 1,507 entries for the tourney, exceeding the former high of 1,416 in 1951.

Eleven players were exempt because of major titles won in the past. Nine others got the jump on the rest, shooting in the Northwest sectional yesterday at Seattle, where Bruce Cudd, Portland, a member of the Walker Cup team, and C. W. Adams Jr., of Seattle, claimed the qualifying berths.

Cudd toured the 6,328-yard, par-70 Broadmoor course in 72-68—140 for his two rounds. Adams filled the other spot with 77-78—155, moving up when Erv Parent, Seattle, the Washington State amateur champ, and Dick Stearns, Portland, said they would be unable to make the national.

Five other members of the Walker Cup team, one member of the losing British Walker Cup team and five of last year's amateur quarter-finalists were among those who played today.

Two members of the U. S. were exempt. Joe Conrad, San Antonio, losing British Walker Cup team and five of last year's amateur quarter-finalists were among those who played today.

Two members of the U. S. were exempt. Joe Conrad, San Antonio, Tex., is the current British champion and Harvie Ward, San Francisco, is a former British titleholder.

Arnold Palmer, the 1954 amateur champion, now is a professional.

Dawson's Pitching Arm To Be Top Weapon in Purdue Attack

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Strategy for stopping the tight-wire passes of Purdue's Lennie Dawson will be a prime objective of Big Ten—and Notre Dame—football coaches this fall.

The 6-ft, 178-pound quarterback from Alliance, O., won't surprise anybody this fall, no matter what he does.

Before Dawson had played a minute of intercollegiate football last September, Coach Stu Holcomb called him "one of the best passers I ever saw."

Holcomb's background having included coaching the ends of Army's great World War II teams, other coaches wondered who Holcomb was trying to scare.

Then Dawson hurled four touchdown passes in Notre Dame's only defeat of the season, 27-14, and Coach Terry Brennan of the Irish lamented: "We had expected him to be good—but not that good."

The imperturbable Dawson went on to lead the nation in scoring passes with 15 and to top the Big Ten in both passing and total offense. He kicked off, punted and booted 19 extra points.

Football being an 11-man enterprise, the question arises as to whether Purdue's substantial losses by graduation, including top pass catcher Johnny Kerr of Honolulu, will create an "all-pass, no-catch" situation.

The probable answer is "no."

Starting ends probably will be Lamar Lundy, 6-ft, 6 in., 213-pounder from Richmond, Ind., who became Purdue's first Negro starter as a sophomore last fall, and Bob Khoenle, 6-ft.-1 in., 195-pound junior, from Massillon, O.

Right back of them are two more excellent pass catchers, Bob Springer, 6-1, Indianapolis senior, and Leonard Zyzda, 6-4, 200-pound Chicago senior.

LEN DAWSON
Top Passer in Big Ten

Other prospects include a 6-2 sophomore, Donald Burger, of Erie, Pa. This crew of ends can move, although it looks like an unusually muscular basketball team.

As for Dawson, well he has been toughening up with a job as a manual laborer, aware that he'll need all the callouses he can raise.

Bell Cracks 2; Redlegs Down Phils

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs move into the Polo Grounds for a twi-night doubleheader tonight and a crucial four-game series with the world champion New York Giants.

Two and one-half games separate the fifth place Reds with the slumping fourth place Giants. The Reds need to break even, or better, to sustain their drive for a first division berth.

The Reds picked up a game on the New Yorkers last night with a 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies at Connie Mack Stadium. New York bowed to the Chicago Cubs 6-3 in an afternoon contest.

All the Red runs were on bases-empty homers, with Wally Post socking two of the roundtrippers. His second came in the ninth inning and broke up a 3-3 deadlock. All the homers were pitched up by 21-game winner Robin Roberts. He has served up 34 home run balls this season.

Through the fifth, Roberts controlled the Reds by giving up four singles. The Phils, meanwhile, had built up a 3-0 lead. They scored two runs in the first inning on singles by Richie Ashburn and Granny Hamner, a walk and Del Ennis' sacrifice fly. They touched starter Joe Black for a marker in the third on Bobby Morgan's double and Ennis' single.

Smoky Burgess, Robin's former batterymate, drove his 19th homer of the season over the rightfield fence in the sixth inning. Post slammed his 33rd homer onto the roof of the leftfield bleachers in the same frame.

Hobie Landrith, pinchhitting for Joe Nuxhall, who replaced Black in the fifth, tied the score in the eighth with his leadoff homer over the rightfield fence.

The Phillies loaded the bases on walks in the eighth but Hershell Freeman settled down and struck out Stan Lopata on three straight pitches. Freeman retired the Phils in order in the ninth for his sixth victory against three defeats.

Post led off the ninth with his 34th homer and his 97th run batted in.

John Meyer replaced Roberts, tagged with his 10th setback, and the bases were promptly loaded on Gus Bell's double and a pair of walks before the side was retired.

Post is now tied for fifth in the RBI and home run departments and is fourth in the National League batting derby.

Yesterday's STARS

Pitching — Erv Palica, Orioles, brushed off Tigers on five hits, walking only one batter, for first shutout of season 6-0 in first game of doubleheader sweep.

Batting — Wally Post, Redlegs, belted two of four home runs off Robin Roberts, with his 34th deciding it in the ninth, in 4-3 decision over Phillies.

Drake Back in League

Campy Moves Up in Race for NL Bat Crown

New York (AP) — Brooklyn's Roy Campanella is making a belated drive to overhaul pace - setting Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia in the National League batting race.

With less than a month of regular season play remaining, Campanella trails Ashburn by eight points. The Dodgers' catcher is hitting .324 as compared to Ashburn's .332.

A week ago Ashburn held an 11-point lead over Campanella. The Phils' outfielder went 11-for-32 during the week and gained one point, while Campy boosted his average four points on 10-for-27.

Al Kaline, the young Detroit outfielder, continues to head the American League batting parade with a .348 average, followed by Vic Power of Kansas City, who is swinging at a .316 clip.

Kaline lost three points last week on 9-for-29 and Power picked up two points with 8-for-22.

Purchase of Adios Sets Record-High Harness Sale Price

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Adios, 15-year-old sire of harness race champions who was purchased for $21,000 seven years ago, was sold Monday for half a million dollars — highest price ever paid for a standardbred horse.

The United States Trotting Assn. here announced the purchase of Adios by USTA President Lawrence B. Sheppard.

Sheppard, who owns Hanover Shoe farms, paid $500,000 to Delvin Miller, proprietor of Meadowlands Farm, Meadow Lands, Pa. Miller bought Adios at the Tattersall auction in Lexington, Ky., in 1948.

Adios held several world records in the early 1940s, but as a stallion established himself as an unequalled producer of pacers.

Last season his progeny won $537,174. Adios Harry, a four-year old son of Adios, recently turned in the fastest race time in history in winning a mile event in 1:55 at Vernon, N. Y.

Smith May Be Sleeper For Brown

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Coach Paul Brown is hoping that 22-year-old Bob Smith, his 15th round choice in the football draft last winter, will solve the halfback problem of the Cleveland Browns.

If he does, the former Nebraska gridder will go down as something of a sleeper.

Smith performed admirably during the Browns' two exhibitions with the Green Bay Packers and the San Francisco 49ers, but those games showed the team was far from overloaded with hard running halfbacks.

"It's one of the penalties of winning and being low man on the draft pole," said the coach of the National Football League champions. "Just about all the time, the big, fast men are gone before we get to them."

"For us to grab one," Brown continued, "he has to be pretty much of a sleeper. And of course when Billy Reynolds went into service it cost us that type of rugged back."

Smith shone as a pass receiver in the victory over Green Bay and was his team's most effective runner in last Sunday's loss to the 49ers.

"He has been somewhat of a surprise to me, and a pleasant one," Brown said. "He hits hard enough to do some gaining inside, and yet he has enough speed to go wide. If he can continue to perform as he has so far, he unquestionably will figure in our plans."

Smith, 5-10 and 195 pounds, played fullback last season with the Cornhuskers, leading their scoring with 26 points and gaining 450 yards in 88 tries. The two previous seasons he played halfback, leading his team in rushing in his junior year with 736 yards in 136 attempts.

Marion To Join Drive For U.S. Navy Memorial

Marion will participate in a campaign to finance a memorial to World War II Navy dead.

Scrolls, on which names of persons contributing $1 or more will be inscribed, are to be distributed throughout the nation and will be available at VFW Post 3313 here immediately.

The memorial is to be erected by the Navy Clubs of America near the hulk of the USS Arizona, sunk during the attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941. The scrolls are to be placed in a sealed vault in the memorial plaque, which is to be on an eight-foot square block of stone.

Arrangements for the memorial plan were made recently during a meeting of the Ohio Squadron of the Navy Club of America near Springfield. Attending the meeting from Marion were Paul-Cochran, Robert Vaughan and Richard Abbott and their families.

17 Youths Respond To Police 'Request'; Sidewalks Cleared

The fun of breaking soft drink bottles on the sidewalks at E. Church St. and Reed Ave. turned into a clean-up chore for 17 youths Monday afternoon.

Police were called to the former Forest Lawn School yard when neighbors complained of the boys breaking the bottles on the sidewalks.

The youths would not tell police which of them had broken the bottles so all 17 were "requested" by the police officers to clean up the broken glass.

The clean-up job completed, the police officers warned the boys that the next time this happened all of them would be cited to appear before juvenile authorities.

It's a New, Nervy Business

TANGANYIKA British East Africa

I don't know who is educating who here—we the natives, or the natives us. I suspect a bit of both. On our first day here, Jim Hurlbut who is Marlin Perkins' assistant curator on "Zoo Parade," collected a fierce looking aggregation of Masei tribesmen and lectured them to a fare-thee-well about the blessings of television.

JOHN CROSBY

Geoffrey Lawrence - Brown, our hunter, dutifully but rather skeptically translated it all into Swahili. I don't really think they believed any of it but at least we have done our best to pave the way for Milton Berle when the wonders of Kuonekana a Upepoo (to be visible with the wind, which is as close as I can get to it in Swahili) arrive.

Meanwhile, our own education is proceeding apace. The last couple of days we have spent with Willie de Beer who is encamped about seven miles away, happily catching wild animals. Willie is a little wisp of a man weighing perhaps 115 pounds, dripping wet, and resembling a Boer version of Franklin P. Adams.

HUNTERS THERE ARE aplenty here but there are only about six trappers in British East Africa and Willie is the dean. He arrived here from South Africa with his father, also an animal trapper, in 1907.

He started helping out his father with the trapping when he was nine years old, became a fullfledged animal trapper 40 years ago and, since then, has shipped about 2,000 wild animals to zoos all over the world. If you have been to many zoos, you must have seen some of Willie's animals.

Willie started on horseback with a lasso but, like the cowboys, he has long since transferred himself to an automobile, a far less tractable beast and one which, over open country at 60 miles an hour, bucks and pitches far worse than any bronco.

Willie is as much a part of his battered old Ford, which bears the scars of dozens of infuriated rhinos as he once was of his horse. He can separate a mother elephant, the largest and most formidable bundle of maternal love, from her offspring simply by diverting the animals attention to his car.

As the elephant keeps trying to tip the car over with her tusks, he slips gracefully away. The elephant tries again, each time getting a little farther away from Junior.

-:-

PRESENTLY HE GOES back and collars Junior. This isn't easy. Seated precariously on a home-made bucket seat on the left fender is one of Willie's distant cousins, Philip de Beer, more conveniently known as Duffy (another assistant and equally distant cousin is known as Scruffy).

Duffy has a pencil moustache, eyes like almonds and a cigarette permanently dangling from his lips. He looks exactly like one of the bad guys in any Hopalong Cassidy movie you ever saw.

He is as slender as a panther and just about as strong and it's his job to go flying through the thorn bushes at 40 to 60 miles an hour and, when the time comes, to drop a noose on the end of a bamboo pole over the animal's head. Throughout all this, he remains wonderfully imperturable.

"It is the greatest sport of all," says Willie, who is one of the most courteous and soft spoken of men, and when he says it, you know that Willie is doing exactly what he wants to do every day of his life.

Until recently, Willie has refused to let anyone take movies of his animal catching. "I did not want the others to learn my tricks," he will tell you, "but then I decided it is a nervy business, if anyone wants to try it, let him."

THE OTHER DAY he gave us a demonstration of how to catch a baby giraffe, a chase across the plains I shall not easily forget. After we had got our moves—and taking pictures from the back of a jolting truck at 35 miles an hour is hardly fun—Willie solicitously bundled the little fellow (he was only seven feet tall) back into his truck and took him back to mama. It was, he expalined, Kidogo. This is the first and conceivably the last giraffe I shall see thrown back because it was too small.

While rhinos and elephants are the most dangerous things to monkey with, they are not the hardest thing to catch. The most elusive animals are gazelles—almost any kind of gazelle—because of their great speed. "I hate to catch them anyhow because they are so little and they cry so piteously," he says.

There are a good many heartbreaks to the animal catching business. The day we met Willie he caught one of the rarest animals of his career, purely by accident. It was a white Steinbuck run down unharmed by one of his dogs. There are plenty of tan Steinbucks around, but Willie, in all his career, had never heard of a white one. Rejoicing was brief, though, the next day it escaped, no one knows how.

-:-

ANOTHER OF WILLIE'S frustrations is the Sable Antelope, a rare and elusive animal. Willie's father caught a few in South Africa. In 50 years, Willie has never captured one.

And in 40 years in this business, Willie has naturally edged pretty close to eternity more than once. The closest, when an elephant charged from 10 feet away and went, galumph galumph, right over Willie's prostrate body without touching him, and off into the brush.

As Willie says, it's a nervy business and, if you want to try it, go right ahead.

48 Women Demonstrate At Chicago's County Jail

CHICAGO (AP)—Forty-eight women prisoners participated in a noisy demonstration at the Cook County Jail Monday because a window in their cellblock was closed as the temperature soared to 93 degrees.

Warden Irwin Blazek said the window was closed because a woman prisoner was talking to men prisoners in a nearby wing of the jail. After the window closing, he said, several women began beating the woman prisoner who had been talking to the men.

He said the women finally quieted after threats they would not be fed.

Chaplain Plan Being Used in Galion Hospital

GALION — No one need to be in Galion Community Hospital without the services of a minister, whether the patient belongs to a church or not

This is because a chaplaincy program, one of the many innovations at the hospital, is now in effect. It was established by the Galion Ministerial Association with the approval of the board of trustees. Ministers of the city are on a workable schedule, set up by the ministerial association, whereby one is appointed each week to be the "Chaplain of the Week."

Upon entrance to the hospital, the church affiliation of each patient is secured in accordance with hospital statistics always taken. If the person does not belong to any church, then the chaplain of the week will be available if the patient desires his services

A card given to the patient and prepared by the ministers states: "The Galion Ministerial Association, desiring to cooperate with the doctors, nurses and administration of Galion Community Hospital, in working toward your recovery to health, have established a chaplaincy program

"A chaplain-of-the-week, a clergyman from one of the churches in Galion, will be calling on you in the near future. He comes to help you pray, to comfort, to counsel. He stands ready to serve your present need."

There also is a bulletin, "Praying Hands," given to the patient. It contains prayers to be read in the morning, in the evening and one for confidence. Scripture verses also are printed on it. The bulletin explains further the service of the chaplain of the week

In setting up the program, the ministers met with a representative of St. Luke's Hospital, Cleveland, where a similar program is in effect. Conferences then were held between David J. Wires, hospital administrator, and representatives of the Galion Ministerial Association in conjunction with a general orientation program for all volunteer workers in the hospital.

SALT DIGGERS. Workers at Araure, Venezuela, harvest salt from 550-acre "salt lake," level of which is controlled by canals. Area produces 71,000 tons a year.

Nevada Man Takes Life After Accident Fatal to His Wife

GOLDFIELD, Nev. (AP) —A man, dazed by an accident that killed his wife, lay down beside her body Monday and killed himself with a 22-caliber pistol, Sheriff Ed Kitchen said.

The sheriff said Henry Hytti, 55 and his wife Alice, 50, Roseburg, Ore., were in a pickup truck that went out of control, flipped over four times and landed in a drainage ditch 19 miles north of Tonopah. Mrs. Hytti was killed instantly.

Witnesses said Hytti wandered around for a few moments, then pulled a .22 automatic out of his luggage and shot himself in the forehead.

Walter Doubts Mrs. Landy Is Now Anti-Red

Dropped Daily Worker Subscription Only Few Days Ago, He Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Walter (D-Pa) says testimony by Mrs. Deborah Landy that she dropped her Communist Daily Worker subscription only a few days ago "indicated to me that she still has a very lively interest in Communist activities."

Walter is chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, which Monday questioned Mrs. Landy, a 54-year-old Bradley Beach, N.J., widow, about past Communist activities.

It was Mrs. Landy's acknowledged membership in the Communist party from 1937-1947 that led the Navy to deny her son Eugene, 21, a reserve commission recently when he graduated second in his class at the Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, N.Y.

Both Mrs. Landy and her son have said she left the Communist party in 1947 at Eugene's insistence. A special three-man Navy board now is reviewing the original decision not to commission the son.

After Mrs. Landy emerged from the closed door hearing Walter told newsmen she was questioned about efforts to recruit New Jersey farm workers into the Communist party in the 1930s and 1940s.

Walter said the Navy's denial of a commission to Eugene Landy figured only incidentally in the hearing.

Walter told reporters his doubt that Mrs. Landy actually has made a clean break with her Communist past stemmed from her testimony that she had canceled her Daily Worker subscription only two days ago.

Mrs. Landy, confirming Walter's account of her testimony on this point, said she dropped the subscription on advice of her lawyer Joseph L. Rauh Jr., national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was mixed in quiet trading early this afternoon although strength in rails and aircrafts pushed the average up.

Gains ran from fractions to around a point and losses were fractional with some exceptions.

A leap of about five points in United Aircraft helped boost the aircraft division while rails were higher.

Drops of around a point by Kennecott and two by Magma featured the copper group.

Trading appeared to be less than Monday's 1,910,000 shares.

Baltimore & Ohio was up around a point while New York Central, Southern Pacific and Pennsylvania Railroad also gained.

North American Aviation, Bell Aircraft and Boeing were gainers, although Douglas was off fractionally.

Among the chemicals, Olin Mathiesen was up around two while American Cyanamid, Union Carbide and Du Pont were off fractionally. Dow Chemical and Air Reduction leaned to the upside.

Among other gainers were Bethlehem Steel, Westinghouse and Loew's. Losers included U. S Steel, Sears Roebuck, Schenley and American Can

U. S. Treasury obligations were down.

Cities Meeting Dog Problems

CHICAGO (UP) — Fido's bone-burying and barking can become a community headache, according to the American Municipal Association.

The association has collected reports on several methods cities use to control the canine problem.

In Seattle, Wash., the King County Humane society has six light trucks cruising the city for strays. About a dozen college boys are hired to look for loose dogs.

In addition, police prowl cars take dog complaints as part of their routine. Seattle and King County contract with the society to license dogs, handle complaints and maintain a pound, in return for which the society retains 80 per cent of the license fees.

A survey by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities showed that 14 to 24 Wisconsin cities of more than 10,000 population impose $5 forfeitures on dog-owners who allow their pets to run loose.

The American Municipal Association said the forfeiture method is favored over the older method of catching the dog and fining the owner because all the officials have to do is identify the dog to collect the forfeiture. The owner, not the city, must retrieve his pet at the risk of further forfeitures if he fails to do so.

Homemaker's Role Given High Rating

MINNEAPOLIS (UP) — A home economist says the financial welfare of the individual and the family is just about as dependent on the homemaker's ability to run things as it is on the size of the family pay-check.

"The majority of families have changed from making a living to buying a living," said Ilse H. Wolf, head of the home economics department, Oklahoma A and M college.

"As a result, the homemaker has become the purchasing agent for the home and family, she told the convention of the American Home Economics Association.

"She determines to a significant degree the financial condition, not only of herself and her family, but also of the national economy," Miss Wolf said.

ACCIDENT and AUTO INSURANCE AGENCY

Red Cross Says $10 Million Relief Needed

Toll of Homeless in Flood Is Set at 49,441 Families

NEW YORK (AP)—The latest count by the American Red Cross shows that 49,441 families suffered losses in the Northeast floods of nearly two weeks ago. The agency figured its relief costs will go over 10 million dollars.

The revised figures were issued yesterday. Previously the Red Cross had counted 35,661 families suffering losses and set its aid at eight million.

So far, a special flood relief drive by the Red Cross has brought in over five million dollars collected by chapters across the nation.

The Red Cross said 13,169 families have indicated they will apply to it for rehabilitation aid. The organization figured this would take up 80 cents of every Red Cross dollar spent in the disaster area.

The Red Cross report also said 143 deaths directly caused by the flood have been confirmed by civil authorities. Of 5,909 persons injured, 252 required hospitalization.

The state-by-state breakdown of families who suffered flood losses:

Connecticut, 31, 193; Pennsylvania, 8,211; Massachusetts, 5,109; New Jersey, 2,206; Rhode Island, 1,362; New York, 1,360.

A total of 1,314 homes were destroyed, 4,905 seriously damaged, and 15,251 damaged to a smaller degree.

Ohio Escapee Caught

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—Jerome Arnold of Springfield, Ohio, identified as a 20-year-old escapee from Ohio's Mansfield Reformatory, was arrested here yesterday, police reported. Police chief Herbert McDonnell said Arnold was serving a 1-20-year sentence when he escaped July 2. The fugitive was captured Sunday on the roof of a store and charged with attempted burglary.

Ohio Congressman Plans Russian Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) plans to visit the Soviet Union this year.

His office said today his visa has been approved and he will pick it up in Paris.

Hays now is in Europe as an American delegate studying the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

His wife is traveling with him, but plans to return to the United States Sept. 23, before he goes to Russia. Hays also will visit Yugoslavia with a House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee.

Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio) also is planning a trip abroad.

Mrs. Bolton is packing for a trip through parts of Africa, particularly south of the Sahara Desert.

Her office said she does not plan to visit any of the north African cities where Arab rioting has been going on.

Wigs began to be very popular in Europe when Louis XIII began to grow bald and turned to elaborate wigs which were imitated by his followers.

Police in Kentucky Find No Evidence Of Hit-Skip Death

CYNTHIANA, Ky. (AP)—State police are unable to find evidence supporting a theory that a Cincinnati man was killed in a traffic accident near here.

The body of Chester P. Ruark, 56, was found Sunday about 30 feet from U.S. 27.

Police said yesterday there were no skid marks or broken glass on the highway to indicate he was struck by a vehicle.

Dave Rees, Harrison County coroner, theorized Ruark was hit by a car or truck "going at least 50 miles an hour."

State police said Ruark "had been on a party" with four other persons but had left the group at an inn about a mile from where the body was found.

3 Tickets Too Many, Motorist Prefers Jail

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Enoch O'Dell Bush went to jail Monday rather than pay another traffic fine.

"I've paid two traffic tickets this week," the 38-year-old Del City, Okla., man told motorcycle policeman K. L. Seal, who arrested him for running a signal light.

"I won't pay three tickets in one week," he said. He gave his wife his belongings and told officers to 'put me in a cell."

Recipe for Longevity

DETROIT (AP) — Milton Mozart Marble, a retired schoolteacher who will be 100 Thursday, said in an interview the way to live long is to eat three bowls of applesauce a day and take a daily bath.

Clothing Drive for Flood Victims Termed Success

"Extremely gratifying" was the result of a clothing drive in Marion for relief of flood victims in the East. The call was made by the welfare organization of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and the response from the community was more than generous, spokesmen report. A truck leaving here Sunday afternoon was loaded with 22 large boxes of clothes, bedding and canned goods.

Not only was much of the clothing and supplies donated in excellent condition, a large proportion was brand new. Contributions were made by people and families from throughout the city and the distribution in the flood area will be on an interdenominational basis.

More than 2,000 garments were received besides shoes, sheets and other bedding and food supplies. Eight people were kept busy at the church's welfare center at the rear of the church building from Saturday noon until about 4 p.m. Sunday making trips to pick up donations and sorting and packing the items which came in. Mrs. Tilford Kermse is in charge of the welfare work for the congregation.

Fair Starts Sept. 13

Entries Close Thursday In Wyandot Talent Show

UPPER SANDUSKY — Entry lists will close Thursday for the Home Talent Amateur Show contest, the first of the five Wyandot County Fair night programs. The fair is scheduled Sept. 13-17.

Residents of Wyandot County school districts are eligible to enter in one of three classifications, adults (over 19 years of age), teens (13 through 18 years) and small fry (under 13). Contestants may register at the courthouse in the Agriculture Extension office of the county school superintendent's office. Cash prizes will be awarded in each contest classification to the first five place winners.

In addition to the talent contest on Tuesday night, night shows will include: the Junior Fair show in the arena and Bob Otto's wrestlers in front of the grandstand on Wednesday; Gene Holter's Racing Ostriches and Wild Animal Show on Thursday; an auto thrill show by the Congress of Canadian Daredevils on Friday and the Cherokee Wild West Ranch Rodeo on Saturday.

HARNESS RACING programs on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will start here at 1 p.m. on one of the fastest one-half mile tracks in Ohio. Both a starting gate and photo finish equipment will be used for all heats. F. K. Cassel is superintendent of the speed department.

The Wyandot fair, founded in 1851, last year won the Myers Y Cooper trophy for the outstanding 1954 fair in Ohio.

On the second day of the fair, Sept. 14, the election and coronation of a Junior Fair King and Queen will highlight the activities. Nominations are made by 4-H clubs, Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America chapters, Scouts and other youth groups. Finalists are chosen by the Junior Fair Board. The king and queen are selected by the ballots of the Junior Fair exhibitors and will be crowned in time to open the annual parade and program in the Junior Fair building on Wednesday night.

—:—

CANDIDATES FOR queen are: Pat Linstedt, Snip and Clip Junior 4-H Club; Marilla McClain, Senior Girl Scout troop; Sara Romig, Rosy Ridge Maidens 4-H Club; Nancy Rowland, Mifflin Busy Daughters; and Joan Schilling, Eden Sunbeams.

Finalists for the king's crown are: Jim Baublitz, Nevada FFA; Dick Gerber, Nevada Bobcat Farmers; Burt Kelley, Champion Workers; David McClain, Upper Farm Producers; and James Racheter, McCutchenville FFA.

A tractor pulling contest, always a popular event here, will again be a feature of the 1955 fair. Entry books are now open for the contest which will begin at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Sept 17, as a final day feature of the fair. The entry lists will remain open until 6 p.m. on Sept. 16 and the event will be open to residents of Wyandot and surrounding counties. Cash prizes will be awarded and trophies presented in each of four classes. Fair board directors in charge of the tractor contest will be W. M. Walter, E. C. Orians and Eugene Swerline.

City Employes in Dallas Told Not To Join Union

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas firemen and other city employes were under notice from the City Council today that they will be fired if they join a union.

The vice president of the AFL Firemen's Union, Capt. Jack Bostick of the Fort Worth, Tex., Fire Department, had informed the Council the union planned a court challenge to the Dallas city ordinance. The Council resolution Monday was a reply of sorts to Bostick.

3 New York Youths Toss Boy, 8, Into Rubbish Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight-year-old Joseph Bolero of Queens suffered first-degree burns of the face and body Sunday night when three older boys grabbed him in a Queens park and threw him into a rubbish fire.

Joseph told police he did not know the older boys but they seemed to be 10 or 12 years old.

The boy's tormenters fled immediately after tossing him head first into the flames. Joseph quickly got up and ran to a park washroom to douse the fire. A park attendant took him to a hospital.

Cavaliers Take Fourth Spot at Ohio State Fair

The Cavaliers Drum and Bugle Corps of Bird-McGinnis Post 162, American Legion, placed fourth in the Ohio State Fair competition Sunday. A total of 11 corps participated in the competition.

Bellefontaine, with a score of 90.3, placed first; Massillon, with 89.4, was second; Forestville, with 84.8, was third, and the Marion group was fourth with a score of 84.583.

An estimated crowd of between 13,000 and 15,000 persons saw the competition in the sixth Veterans Day at the State Fair.

Three more competitions remain for the Cavaliers this year. Next Sunday, Sept. 4, the group will compete in the Midwest Drum Corps Circuit contest at Bellefontaine. The following Sunday, on Sept. 11, 10 corps will compete here in Marion, and on Oct. 10 the group will compete in the national competitions in Miami, Fla.

The Cavaliers is composed of 23 World War II veterans and four Korean War veterans. Eugene Pletcher is the musical director, Wayne Willis and Harvey Bell are the drill instructors, and Don Williams is the color guard sergeant. Officers of the group are Dr. Gerald Strauss, president and business manager; Carl Werley, vice president; and Gene Mathias, treasurer.

High-Up Work On Mackinac's Bridge Begins

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — The "high up" work has begun on the 100 million dollar Straits of Mackinac bridge.

Creepers are in action building the mighty bridge towers. The towers are climbing skyward. Risking death, men work at dizzying heights over the waters of the straits.

The creeper, weighing 20 tons and built of specially fabricated steel, is the bridge builder's scaffold that carries him aloft under a firm footing.

The great crane that lifts it looks like a gigantic spider against the sky.

Sixty feet at a time, the creeper rises as each section of tower is set in place. Ultimately the towers will be 527 feet above the water surface. This is expected by early fall, says Dan Kline, project engineer for the American Bridge Co.

The world's longest single suspension bridge—five miles in all—is on the way up.

New Appointment Plan Set for Public Notaries

A person seeking appointment as a notary public must be a registered voter, court officials explained today. Letters are being sent to persons who will be affected by the new procedure.

LONDON (AP) — How many men does it take to install one gas stove?

The London Daily Express, campaigning for more efficiency in Britain, asked that question today and then went on to tell of one case where it took 23 men to put a stove in a store.

According to W. B. Wilkinson, who runs a London hardware store, this is what happened when he asked the local government-run gas board for a new stove.

—:—

AN INSPECTOR called, looked at the old stove and agreed to the request. Two men arrived to deliver the new cooker. Two days later, two men arrived to fit it. Later, another two men called and took the old stove away.

Seven men so far.

Meanwhile, the men fitting the new cooker decided that a new meter was needed. A man arrived with a new meter. Two more men called to connect it. Another man also called to take away the old meter.

—:—

IT WAS THEN decided that the pipes needed blowing out. Three men drove up in a truck and set to work with a compressor unit. After a morning's work they decided the stoppage was not within the building, but must be under the sidewalk or road.

Fourteen men so far.

At this point an inspector arrived with a colleague. They surveyed the situation. Then, one morning a truck carrying six men, automatic picks, compressor and other tools drew up. They dug up the road and pavement.

For two days—no gas at all.

—:—

A NEW SECTION of pipe was installed and for nearly a year everything was peaceful.

Then, Wilkinson reports, the other day a man dropped in. He announced he would be there the following Thursday to paint the pipes.

"What pipes?"

"The new gas pipes, of course," was the reply.

And he was No. 23.

Said the Express editorial: "Can anyone beat that for a record of over-employment?"

There was no comment from the gas board.

Holiday Traffic Will Claim 20, Felty Predicts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highway Safety today estimated about 20 people will die in traffic accidents in Ohio during the four-day Labor Day holiday weekend.

Accidents will cause an economic loss of more than 2½ million dollars, says Director U.C. Felty.

"Until all drivers accept their full responsibility we might just as well face the facts," said Felty. He added that records of his department show that the economic loss alone over the four-day Labor Day weekend in 1954 was $2,600,000, including $374,000 in property damage. The property damage is computed from reports made by persons involved in accidents in which there was more than $100 in property damage or a death or injury.

"Property damage alone does not begin to tell the story," he said. "There are thousands of dollars paid out in hospital bills plus thousands more lost when the man of the house is injured or killed and not able to work."

Director Felty said he is urging all law enforcement agencies working on traffic enforcement to use their full strength over Labor Day and make arrests wherever flagrant violations are noted.

Last year over the four-day holiday, 22 persons died on Ohio highways. Seventeen were killed from 6 p.m. Sept. 3 to midnight Sept. 6.

GI Killed, Second Hurt In Jeep Crash in Japan

TOKYO (AP)—One U. S. soldier was killed and another injured critically Monday night when their speeding jeep sideswiped a truck and flipped over.

The Army withheld their names, but Japanese newspapers identified the dead soldier as Pfc. Harold Roger, 20, Co. I, 8th Cavalry Rgt., Camp Kumagaya, and the injured soldier at Pfc. Daniel H. Forster, 19, of the same unit. Home towns were not available.

State highway patrolmen who investigated said the speedometer on Garrison's damaged motorcycle was jammed at 103 m.p.h.

How Blessed Is the Peacemaker?

The difference between the peace outlined by Secretary of State Dulles for acceptance by Israel and its surrounding Arab states and the armistice won by Ralph J. Bunche as United Nations mediator early in 1949 is enforcement.

Dr. Bunche was a peacemaker without a gun, which made his accomplishment more brilliant than it would have been otherwise. But the deterioration of the armistice he brought to the Holy Land now has advanced to a stage where sniping is threatening to get out of hand. The United States, which cannot afford to let strife in the Holy Land threaten its interests without trying to pacify the combatants, now has given notice of a new attempt to quiet warring Jews and Arabs.

By guaranteeing the borders and the rights of each side, the United States would bring to peacemaking in the Holy Land what has been missing since the British withdrew in 1948 — outside force. The British withdrew because they despaired of peacemaking between Jews and Arabs and were sick of the role of peacemaker. They were tired of keeping gafrisons in places where British influence was resented.

Yet the United States would be committed to do this under the plan proposed by Secretary Dulles. It would add one more place to its roster of outposts manned by Americans likely to be shot any minute by local triggermen who want the "Yankees" to go home so they can shoot one another without interference.

Would it be expecting too much to hope this time it might be made clear in advance that the Yankees will withdraw at the first sign of a revival of gun fever, if the Dulles plan is accepted by both sides?

Col. Blimp's Welcome

American opinion on French action to check rioting in North Africa could be given with greater grace if the United States were not trying to check rioting in South Korea by force, too.

When white men bear the "burden" of trouble among brown men, it is not tactful for a pot to call a kettle black. Of course, the United States never has wanted to possess an empire. It never has staked out claims on foreign soil for the purpose of exploiting the natives. It has not believed in colonialism. It is not in South Korea as a master but as a protector.

But when it is confronted with nationalism asserting itself violently against outsiders insisting on their right to stay where they are not wanted, it is as confused as Britain's proverbial Col. Blimp.

There is a time for outsiders to take their leave. It is when they no longer can stand up against the nationalist opposition they have generated by overstaying their welcome.

The French have shown no talent so far for graceful leave-taking. They had to be driven out of Indochina. Perhaps they can continue to stand up against their opposition in North Africa; they are testing that point by wholesale bloodshed.

When it must be tested that way, the chances are nothing is to be gained by continuing the bloodshed. The outsiders have lost the point, although Col. Blimp will never admit it.

No Biting in the Clinches

For obvious reasons, everybody in Washington next year will be trying to get credit for being in favor of a tax cut. There is beginning to be danger of biting in the clinches.

The best way to discourage rough play in this matter would be for everybody who believes all the people cannot be fooled all the time to keep an eye peeled for skulduggery in tax-cutting.

Anyone who cuts taxes without cutting spending at a time when the government is running in the red is not a benefactor of the taxpayers but a cynic who believes you can fool all the people all the time.

No political credit is owing to anyone who thinks voters are too dumb not to know the difference between cutting taxes without cutting expenditures and cutting expenditures so taxes can be cut legitimately.

Horsepower and Horsesense

Although auto makers have been continually making cars safer to drive and ride in, their sales pitch has been power and speed.

Power steering, power brakes, safety glass, wrap-around windshields, glareless headlights, tubeless tires, body and frame improvements are but of a few of the safety innovations introduced in recent years with such little fanfare that buyers considered them luxury talking points rather than safety advantages.

In their 1956 models, some car makers are offering safety belts, an innovation which was introduced some time ago but has met with buyer-resistance. Other safety features coming up include doors that will not fly open after a crash and a steering wheel designed to protect the driver from injury from the steering column.

All these features, plus many more still on drawing boards or in experimental stages will not provide a cure-all for highway hazards. That will come later. Eventually some inventor will devise an electronic brain that will coordinate horsesense and horsepower.

Favor or Politics?

Ford Foundation Study Break for Communists

The Communist cause in America has had a lucky break. Though not so intended, of course, it turns out that 15 million dollars, originally derived from the free-enterprise system through the diligent and inventive efforts of Henry Ford is now going to be used to help persuade the people of the United States that Communist activity in America has been insignificant and unimportant. Yet one of the main objectives of the Communists has been and is to destroy the system of private capitalism in our own country and to subvert the government of the United States and its institutions.

Lawrence

To be able to mobilize 15 million dollars to carry on a political propaganda and to put it in a fund which is exempt from paying income taxes is quite an achievement for any cause however well intentioned especially since up to now philanthropic foundations have not engaged openly in propaganda on political issues nor have they boldly announced that they are going to do so.

Legally they have the right to espouse almost any cause and it certainly would seem logical that 15 million dollars of private funds would be forthcoming from somewhere else soon to uphold the cause of relentless opposition to the growth and spread of communism inside this country.

THE FORD FOUNDATION gave 15 million to the so-called Fund for the Republic and the first available report on what's going on, recently issued by the head of the fund, does not hesitate to exude a political flavor and to reveal the biased program of objectives in the various studies being financed. The report says:

"Many public actions have been taken and many political reputations have been built on assumptions about what the Communists in the United States have been able to accomplish and what they are doing at the present time. It has seemed useful to make some effort to discover whether or not these assumptions are well-founded.

The fund has made an appropriation to enable Prof. Clinton Rossiter of Cornell University to carry out a definitive study of what the Communist party has amounted to and what it amounts to now."

This particular project thus far has been awarded about $285,000 but the Congress of the United States and the Federal Bureau of Investigation have spent many millions of dollars on that subject already.

-:-

IT TAKES, HOWEVER, only a small amount of money to issue and get publicity for a report that seeks to discredit the anti-Communist inquiries and findings of the past by Congress. The Fund for the republic report says:

"The accepted view of Communist activity in the United States rests in large part on evidence given in various contexts by a small number of witnesses. There has never been a sustained and rigorous analysis of the sum total of this material . . ."

Yet committees of Congress and the reports of the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on this very subject have been issued yearly for more than two decades.

Only last year the Senate Foreign Relations Committee issued a document giving a digest of all the laws and regulations governing the internal security program.

THE CHAIRMAN of the committee wrote in a preface to it:

"An impartial observer will note, too, that the effort to strengthen our internal security laws has also been subject very often to ridicule as constituting a 'mountain out of a mole hill' and as allegedly too 'costly' to be justified.

"However, a look at modern history will show how a single spy, or dangerous dupe, e.g. a single traitor like Klaus Fuchs, can virtually change an entire pattern . . . in history by his service to the cause of international communism."

REJECTING THE THEORY that the quantity of members of the Communist party or the number of witnesses before committees is a measure of the extent of the treason that the Communists encourage, the Congress of the United States just a year ago by overwhelming vote of both Democrats and Republicans wrote into the laws of the land the following declaration:

"The Congress hereby finds and declares that the Communist party of the United States, although purportedly a political party, is in fact an instrumentality of a conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States. It constitutes an authoritarian dictatorship within the republic, demanding for itself the rights and privileges accorded to political parties, but denying to all others the liberties guaranteed by the Constitution. . . .

"The Communist party is relatively small numerically and gives scant indication of capacity ever to attain its end by lawful political means. The peril inherent in its operations arises not from its numbers, but from its failure to acknowledge any limitation as to the nature of its activities, and its dedication to the proposition that the present constitutional government of the United States ultimately must be brought to ruin by any available means, including resort to force and violence.

"Holding that doctrine, its role as the agency of the hostile foreign power renders its existence a clear and present and continuing danger to the security of the United States. It is the means whereby individuals are seduced into the service of the world communist movement, trained to do its bidding, and directed and controlled in the conspiratorial performance of their revolutionary services. Therefore the Communist party should be outlawed."

BUT THE SO-CALLED Fund for the Republic with its 15 million dollars apparently is to try to prove by its studies that the American people are "remarkably intolerant of minority views" and that "a political party" in this country has merely been "identified with the 'enemy.'"

The word "enemy" is given in quotation marks in the report. Nowhere in it is there any statement that incontrovertible evidence has been presented to Congress and the courts showing how a conspiracy, financed and directed by a foreign government, has set up a political party as a front in America which has actually been used for treasonable purposes.

Power Issue Takes New Twist

By James Free

WASHINGTON — A new twist is showing up in the private vs. public power fight that is building up to a major domestic issue for 1956.

Private power spokesmen have argued for years that Uncle Sam hands out too many subsidies to public power interests. They still say so, but not so vigorously in recent months. Now the shoe is moving over to the other foot, so to speak.

Public power advocates now protest that private power companies are getting big subsidies from the federal government. And their complaints are getting louder and louder, with the loudest voices being the National Association of Rural Electric Cooperatives and the American Public Power Association.

IN BRIEF, THEIR complaint is this: since 1950 private power companies have received a total of $2,140,000,000 in fast tax write-off benefits to encourage them to build up production and transmission facilities. Public power supporters say this program, started in the Korean war, amounts to a tax-free loan. Actual benefits to the private power industry, they claim, will run to $3,200,000,000 — with these figures likely to go up when the temporary "suspension" of the accelerated tax amortization program for electric utilities is lifted.

The benefits of rapid tax write-offs may be debated by the utilities, but the fact remains that the write-off permits were—and are—eagerly sought.

In five years, public power contends, the private power industry has gotten a subsidy from the government that compares very favorably with the $2,500,000,000 that the government has spent for public power facilities in the past 50 years.

THAT $2,500,000,000 includes all Tennessee Valley Authority power, Bonneville, etc. It also compares favorably with the $2,580,000,000 in Rural Electrification Administration loans since the start of that program in the mid-1930's.

Public power forces also contend that the Eisenhower administration is going all out to promote development of private power, but is resisting further growth of public power. They point out that the administration has recommended no appropriations for new public power plants since January 1953.

They note that while TVA has been denied federal funds for new power facilities, private utilities on its borders have been granted certificates for large-scale tax write-offs for expansion of their power production.

ALABAMA POWER CO., for example, received certificates for accelerated amortization of $48,800,000; Georgia Power Co. got certificates for most of the $46,100,000 approved for that state; Mississippi Power and Light and Mississippi Power Co. got certificates totaling $28,500,000; Arkansas Power and Light Co. got certificates for $33,800,000.

Backers of public power do not say these private utilities should not be encouraged to expand along with their areas, but they do say that TVA and other public power agencies ought to be encouraged, too.

In all the hullaballoo over cancellation of the Dixon-Yates contract, little notice was paid to the fact that the Eisenhower administration suffered another defeat about the same time in its championing of private power over public power.

The Congress voted funds for nine new public power starts in the next fiscal year, and this action was taken in spite of the fact that the items were not in the Eisenhower budget. These will be the first new public power plants to be started since curtailment of such public works projects early in the Korean War.

With this foot-in-the-door program, which totals only $13,000,000 in the next year, public power advocates hope that they can do much better in election year 1956. TVA has proposed a plan for self-support of new power plants by bond-financing, and this will be a key plank in the public power platform.

A sample of the new counterfire from the public power forces no doubt will be felt by the two private power officials who testified recently in opposition to TVA bond-financing: Louis V. Sutton, president of Carolina Light & Power Co., and Walter H. Sammis, president of Ohio Edison Co. It will be advertised that Sutton's company has received $35,200,000 in tax write-off certificates, and that Sammis' company has received $37,600,000 in certificates.

What public power is now asking private power, in sum, is this: if you are against federal subsidy, why do you accept it?

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Glorin's Triple Threat

Airwave sensation is a 12-year-old child who can spell. Now if the country could only find a teen-ager or adult who can do it, all would be well. Modern educators are reported most upset and regard this as an attack on their reputation for turning out children who can't spell at all. "If one child is allowed to appear on a national network as a good speller, other children will get the idea they can do it and WILL WE BE SHOWN UP!" one startled grammar schoolteacher exclaimed today. . . . High school teachers are reported even more alarmed and are reported wanting Gloria Lockerman, "$64,000 Question" current sensation suppressed. . . . They consider this can kill the American educational drive for frightful spelling and incredible pronunciation.

LITTLE GLORIA HAS stunned America as a child who spells so well you would think she had NEVER been to school at all in this country. . . . She is up to $16,000 on the quiz show and can go for $32,000 . . . But we hope somebody is urging her to concentrate on simple words like "enough," "plenty," "stop" and "horsesense." . . . There is no telling the affect on the kids of America, already pretty money-mad, if a child with $16,000 in hand for a few minutes work, goes for double or (almost) nothing with the chance-taking abandon of a Mississippi River gambler. . . . (Take the sixteen grand, Gloria, in the interest of other kids and of all education board members, the latter of whom can be terribly hurt by the realization that correct spelling is of any importance and can perhaps even be profitable to the young.)

—:—

WHAT EDUCATORS FEAR, perhaps, is the national presentation of a schoolchild who cannot only spell well but WRITE. The record for turning out kids who can't write a decent hand has reached new highs in American schools during the past couple of decades, and there are plenty of teachers who don't want it smashed now. Suppose a jackpot program should dig up a boy or girl (even one between the ages of fifteen and twenty) who wrote LEGIBLY! ! ! ! It would undo everything our modern system of education has been doing for ever so long. This could lead to an airwave appearance of a college freshman who could write a letter in which not more than thirty per cent of the words were misspelled and only half the sentences too scrawled for interpretation. (Where would our modern grammar and high school educational system be THEN?)

A 23-year-old bank teller on a salary of $65 a week is charged with stealing $65,000. . . . Maybe on that salary he was in the position of never having seen money before.

Criticism of President Eisenhower for raising the tariff on bicycles isn't so much that he did it as that he did it "No hands."

Hal March, m.c. of that heavy-sugar quiz show has been in several movies without big billing, but will get plenty in "It's Always Fair Weather" because of his sudden fame in T V. . . . What a relief he is from the great army of crash, gagsters who run many quiz shows!

Daily Bible Thought

"And Jacob served seven years for Rachel, and they seemed but a few days for the love he had to her."—Genesis 29:20. The Hindus have a saying that when one man loves one woman and one woman loves one man, the very angels in heaven look down in envy. That is the Christian ideal.

Snakes Alive

MERIDEN, Iowa (AP) — A squirming, 27½ foot boa constrictor nearly turned an ordinary carnival sideshow into a frightening experience for this northwest Iowa town.

The snake escaped from its cage and bit a trainer, B. C. Davenport, on the wrist. Later, when the trainer opened the cage to be photographed with the boa, the lights went out. About six feet of the snake slithered onto a platform before it was captured and returned to the cage.

Beetles Beat Worries

SHELBY, N.C. (AP) — A little black beetle has volunteered on the side of farmers of this section who've been fighting a plague of grain-eating army worms.

Ray Wilson, a farm manager, says the beetles pounce on the army worms, shake them vigorously, and devour them.

The question that's worrying the farmers now is: What occupation will the beetles turn to after they've won the war with the army worms?

Crockett, or Fox

GREENEVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Irene Bewley, a resident of Davy Crockett's native Greene County, has done some boning up on Crockett lore and come up with this hattering conclusion:

The cap the frontiersman habitually wore probably wasn't coonskin at all — it was fox skin.

Repentant Thief

HARBOR SPRINGS, Mich. (AP) — A burglar who took $50 of $100 from a Harbor Springs furniture store cash register has returned $48. Store owner A. H. Schwertferger surmises the other $2 went for a long distance call the thief made to say he had "done a terrible thing" and would mail the money back.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO—Appointments of ministers to their charges were announced at a brief business session of the Central German conference here. Rev. John C. Guenther, pastor of the First German Methodist Episcopal Church here, was reappointed.

The receiver for the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Railway Co., Eli M. West, had ordered construction material for extensive improvements to the electric light and power service here.

Plans for Marion's proposed 23-room high school building were accepted by the board of education at a special meeting. A three-story structure, it was to be located on the north side of W. Church St. west of Union St.

20 YEARS AGO—City, county, township and village officials moved swiftly to fulfill their part of a $600,000 WPA program the federal government had laid out for Marion County.

An appraisal of value of the Marion Water Co. plant, expected by city officials during the week, would not be ready until about Oct. 1, C. O. Miles of Chicago, representative of the financial firm of C. W. McNear and Co., announced here as he obtained financial data from city officials.

Malcolm A. Porter, 61, of Pearl St., former Green Camp postmaster and grocer, died in City Hospital.

—:—

10 YEARS AGO — General MacArthur arrived in Japan and set up headquarters in Yokohama as Nippon's military ruler.

President Truman declared he thought the whole country, as much as any individual, was responsible for the Pearl Harbor disaster at a news conference in Washington.

The 13,000 mile odyssey of two wounded ships, the heavy American cruisers Houston and Canberra, was made public in New York by the Navy in an account of a series of night battles last October in the Pacific which cost the two ships the lives of 78 crew members.

A record crowd estimated at 10,000 persons jammed the Marion County Fairgrounds, jumping attendance records for the county fair for beyond those for the previous year.

The leasing of 45 acres of the Scioto Ordnance Works near Marion for the temporary housing of state mental patients "will be a God-send to the state," Gov. Frank J. Lausche told newsmen in Columbus.

Missing Son Is Dead, Priest's Mother Fears

FORT THOMAS, Ky. (AP) — The mother of a missing Roman Catholic priest fears her son "has been killed."

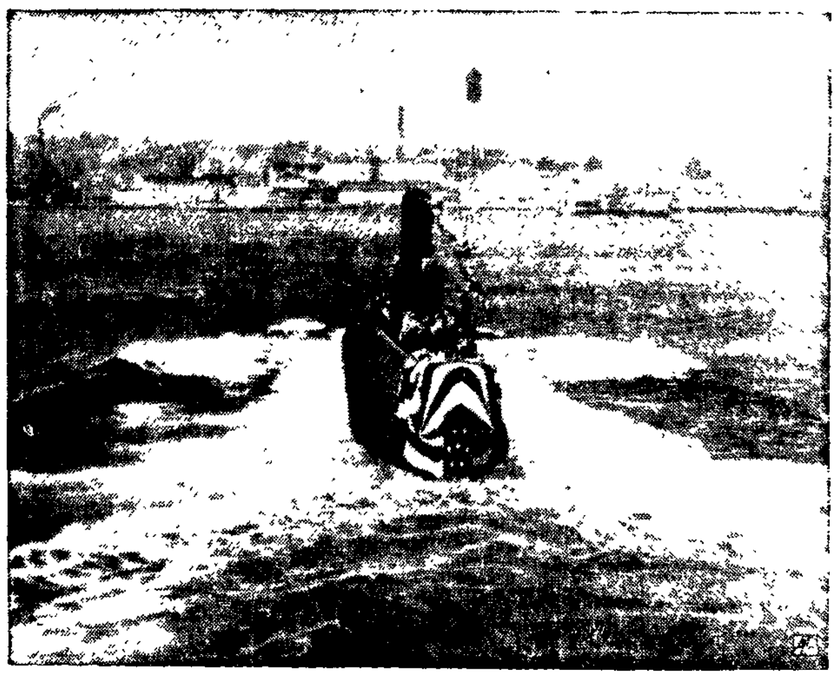
Mrs Raymond Ryan of Columbus, Ohio, conferred with Sheriff Albert Howe and told him of her fears. The Rev. Raymond Ryan, assistant pastor of the St Catherine of Siena Church in Fort Thomas, has been missing since a week ago Friday.

A number of reports have been received about persons resembling the 28-year-old priest but nothing tangible has been found to indicate his whereabouts.

Sheriff Howe conferred with Father Ryan's parents but he said little was learned from the conversation.

Top Salesman

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Father Ralph Diefenbach, at a luncheon where each guest was asked to arise and give his name and job, said, "I am a sales representative for the author of the 10 commandments."



SEAWOLF LAUNCHED. The Seawolf, United States' second atom-powered submarine, 3,000 tons and 330 feet long, moves out on Thames River after launching at Groton, Conn.

Lenders Become More Choosy

Builders Complain as Money Tightens

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Builders already are beginning to squawk a little about the tightness of money. Some say they are losing sales because customers who would like the houses can't find anyone who will pick up the mortgage.

To which the lending fraternity's spokesman reply: "There will be plenty of money available for lending on the right terms to qualified borrowers." And some lenders add that a little tighter credit now will make the whole housing situation healthier in the future.

As usual in such disputes, it's mostly a matter of difference of opinion as to what terms are right and what borrowers good risks.

But the rightness of money is beginning to pinch a little here and there. Money is getting tight, not because there isn't about as much of it as ever available for investment, but because the demand by borrowers of all types—business loans, installment buying, public construction financing, as well as home mortgages — is increasing right along, and the federal money managers aren't increasing the supply.

With greater competition for the available investment funds, interest rates have been going up and money lenders have become more choosy about terms and take a colder look at marginal borrowers.

Rising interest rates have upset the plans of a number of state and local governments that want to borrow money for highways, schools and other improvements.

Choosiness by private lenders has been credited with the drop in the number of houses started in July. This happened before the tightening of credit rules on mortgages by the Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration, which came at the end of the month. This credit tightening could be a restrictive force before the end of the year.

Many predict, however, that home building will slow down very little, if at all.

Man in North Carolina Held, Breaks Wife's Back

LUMBERTON, N. C. (AP)—A 31-year-old man was being held without bond today in what Deputy Sheriff Earl Hendrix said was the most cruel assault of its type on a female he had ever known.

Police said Augusta Revels of Shannon knocked his wife down after a drinking bout, placed her head between his knees and applied pressure until he broke her back.

Mrs. Revels, mother of 10 children, was reported in "satisfactory" condition at a hospital here.

Reunions

GEORGE

Henry George descendants met Sunday for a reunion at Mount Gilead with three aged relatives receiving special recognition. They were Enoch George of Fulton who is 92 and Mrs Hannah Clark of near Marion and Mrs. Eva Mouser of Mount Gilead both 86. Music was by Walter and Lester George of Cardington. The family group included 10 members from Marion.

Officers elected include Lester George, president; Roy George of Cardington, vice president; and Mrs Eva Stuckman of Bucyrus, secretary. The reunion will be held at Mount Gilead next year.

LOYER

The golden anniversary of the Loyer family reunion was held Sunday at the state park at Mount Gilead with 80 relatives present from Lancaster, Newark, Galion, Bucyrus, Upper Sandusky, Martel, New Winchester, Marion and VanWert. A potluck dinner was served at noon. Mrs Betty Stockwell of Galion is president. The reunion next year will be at the same place the last Sunday in August.

Frances Langford Ends Marriage After 17 Years

The decree was granted last Tuesday. An attorney said the divorce was "amicable" and the property was divided in an agreement signed Friday.

They were married in June, 1938, and there were no children.

DENVER (AP) President Eisenhower planned another light work session today and looked forward to more golf.

He had no scheduled engagements at the Summer White House at Lowry Air Force Base. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower hoped to get to Cherry Hills Country Club fairly early in the day.

Monday the President was at his office for about two hours and then went out to the club for golf with Frank Leahy, former football coach at Notre Dame University; Ralph (Rip) Arnold, the club pro; and retired Army Col. Tom Belshe of Washington, an old friend.

Jackson Jury Slated To Get Sheriff's Case

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—A juvenile court jury today is expected to get the case of Jackson County Sheriff David L. Trago, charged with contributing to the delinquency of David L. Hatfield, a 17-year-old airman.

Testimony of rebuttal witnesses for both defense and prosecution ended yesterday.

Atty. William P. Cherrington, assistant prosecutor, said Common Pleas Judge Francis White of Athens County, sitting by assignment, had alloted two hours each to both sides for final arguments.

Cherrington predicted the jury would get the case about 2:30 p.m. today.

The young serviceman's mother filed the charge against Trago, who allegedly gave the youth a ride here from Jackson last July 1, and en route made improper proposals to him.

Trago denies this and testified that at the time of the alleged offense he was serving six legal papers in Jackson County.

Film Actress, New York Music Publisher Married

Miss Lake, 36, previously was married to Andre de Toth, Hollywood director.

McCarthy is associated with Musicana Corp. of New York, which manages Miss Lake's business affairs.
